$100 Dinner With Speeches Barred Is Hailed by Will

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., May 17.—A big step forward in modern civilization was made here in Los Angeles, the last place you would expect civilization to advance. It was a dinner given at $100 a plate, with the distinct understanding there would be no speeches.

The place was sold out and everybody tickled to death. The funds from the dinner were divided among those who wanted to make speeches, but were not allowed.

Everyone in the hall received $100.

Yours,
WILL.

P. S.—Jack Dempsey told me tonight he would fight Tunney in September if he got enough money for it. I told Jack I would fight Tunney myself, if they give me enough money, and time to brush up on my English and Shakespeare.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Well, it finally rained. Holding off until the circus got out of the city, the rain came down rather abundantly for a brief time this morning. The rain was needed, farmers tell us, as the soil had dried out during the last three weeks' period, in which very little rain fell. The shower of the morning would aid crop development considerably.

You perhaps noticed that the fun-makers with the circus here yesterday didn't have to resort to some old gag about prohibition to do their stuff. The last resort of a comedian in trying to get a laugh is to pull some cheap stuff reflecting upon prohibition. But the day has passed when it will work. The public is tired of such piffle.

Parking space for autos in the vicinity of the circus grounds is as much of a problem as it is around the flying field out on the Wilmington road Finding a place to hang up the family flivver near the circus ground in the seventh ward last night was some job.

It probably will not be a great length of time now until a new circus grounds will have to be developed. The circus yesterday was badly cramped for room. It was impossible to put up the big top for the menagerie, and the animal exhibit was out in the open, much after the nature of the wild west, only a canvas fence around.

The day of the spectacular thrills that were broadcasted as part of the old-time circuses, seems gone. Nowadays circuses are sort of a magnified vaudeville program.

New Castle's delegation of women representing the Business and Professional Women's Club is to take part in the state convention of the organization this week at Williamsport, and is going with the determination to have New Castle selected as the next state convention city. Pa Newc extends his best wishes for success. We expect that the ladies will succeed.

At the Public Square workmen are continuing their landscaping. But Pa Newc wonders how long it will last. He wonders if there is not some way in which the grass can be protected from the hurrying feet of those who take shortcuts.

The post office has found a way in which to protect their grass plots. Around the edges of the sidewalks they have placed a small iron fence, just high enough to protect and not high enough to be unsightly.

Yesterday everyone went, was going or had seen the circus. Many men were taken back quite a number of years as they heard the familiar ballyhoo. They saw elephants, tigers, et cetera, and again marveled, just as they did when they were children.

At The Castleton they are having a full house. Many of those who are attending the Scottish Rite reunion are staying there, while the delegates to the Associated Credit Bureaus of Pennsylvania convention checked out last evening.

The Motor Club at The Castleton is doing quite well in its new location. Parenthetically, membership has begun to swell. But it will not be until June that the real membership drive will start. The Motor Club is a help to the city. It should be supported.

The credit men, who were in New Castle Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, were all very enthusiastic about New Castle. They liked the friendly atmosphere they found here, and they liked the way in which the people treated them. In fact, all expressed the hope that next year's sessions will be held in New Castle.

Friends of Pa Newc report this morning that Allan Tower, leading

Three Bandits Kill Farmer And Loot Home

(International News Service)

WAUKEGAN, Ill., May 17.—Three bandits, seeking the hidden wealth of an aged farmer and his wife, shot and killed William Beck, Jr., 36, farmer, living with his father and mother, and severely beat Mrs. Anna Beck, 75, his mother, here today.

The bandits bound and gagged the aged woman and escaped with $3,500 in bonds, jewelry of undetermined value, and about $100 in cash.

William Beck, Sr., 86, confined to his bed with a severe illness, first discovered the murder and robbery when he hobbled to his wife's and son's rooms after receiving no answers to his call. Mrs. Beck is in a serious condition.

Prince Carol Is In Seclusion, To Ban Interviews

Seeks To Protect Hospitality Extended Him By Belgian Government

(International News Service)

BRUSSELS, May 17.—Prince Carol and Mme. Lupescu were in seclusion at the Palace hotel here today. The prince declined to see reporters or issue any statement.

His secretary explained that no interviews would be granted the press by the prince while he remained here as he did not wish to endanger in any way the hospitality extended him by the Belgian government.

No inkling as to the future plans of the prince was given out. The prince and his party arrived here late last night from London after eluding reporters and detectives by a ruse there. A lone motor dashed out of the mansion where Carol had been staying at Godstone and all the newspapermen and detectives followed. When the decoy had drawn away the unwelcome observers, Carol left in another car. The British government had ordered Carol to leave England by today at the latest.

Dodge-Sisman Wedding Takes Place In London

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 17.—A romance which begun in Detroit, Michigan, united two rich American families today when Miss Muriel Sisman was married at the Bayswater Presbyterian church to Horace E. Dodge, son of one of the founders of the Dodge Brothers, Detroit automobile manufacturers. The ceremony took place at 2:30 p. m. in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Mrs. Dodge, a beautiful girl of 24, is the daughter of Andrew Sisman, Sr., a millionaire Detroit contractor.

Dodge gave his age as 27 when he filed notice at a registry office a few weeks ago that he intended to marry Miss Sisman. He is a speed boat manufacturer and is the heir to a $37,000,000 fortune. He is the son of the late Horace E. Dodge.

Announcement of the engagement was made in London last month after members of both families had denied the match. Mr. Sisman, at the time of the engagement announcement, said he did not know anything about the wedding plans but would sail from New York for England within a few days.

Miss Sisman came to London from Paris accompanied by her mother. After the ceremony this afternoon she said that she and her husband planned a quiet honeymoon.

'We are going on a lengthy honeymoon in Norway where we expect to live very quietly," said Dodge. "Later we shall return to England. We may reside permanently in London."

The wealthy young American failed to say why he and his bride may desert the United States.

Dodge's former wife, Mrs. Lois

Seek Slayer And Motive For Death Of Woman In Home

Pittsburgh Husband Returns Home, Finds Wife Slain, Money And Jewelry Gone

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—A missing purse containing $50 and some jewelry was sought by detectives today as they attempted to establish a motive for the slaying of Mrs. Mary Komatz, 45, of Epton, who was shot through the head at her home yesterday by an unknown intruder.

While discrediting robbery as a motive, due to the location of the Komatz home and the time of the slaying, authorities pointed out that the purse had not been found. It was thought that Mrs. Komatz might have secreted it before her death, or that it was snatched up by the slayer as he fled.

Mrs. Komatz was found dead on the kitchen floor by her husband, John Komatz, who was forced to break down the door which the murderer had locked as he left the home.

Local Women Leave For Convention In Williamsport

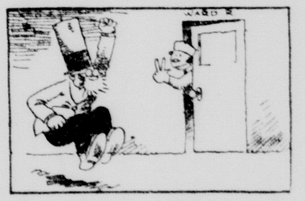

Local B. P. W. Members To Ask For 1929 State Convention For New Castle

Dr. Mildred Rogers, Miss Nancy Bechtol, Miss Agnes Wagner, Miss Helen Hinkson, Miss Mary Browne, Miss Mabel Hutchison of this city, and Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry of New Wilmington, left this afternoon for a motor trip to Williamsport where they will attend the annual state convention of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania.

The sessions will convene Friday morning and the local delegation will return Sunday evening. They hope to get the 1929 B. P. W. convention for New Castle.

There will be 31 cities of the state represented at the convention.

Now one might go to the mountain tops, or down to the surging sea, or one might go to the western plains where the winds blow full and free. Or one might ride on an auto trip, or hike for a week or so, but its always a puzzle, vacation, time, to know just where to go. The mountains are cool on the hottest day, but the prices make one mighty warm, and the seaside is fine but most every day, it blows up a bit of a storm. There are many places where one can spend, a couple of weeks at play, but gosh how they cost when a fellow goes, its sixty-seven today.

Cement Plant In Safety Drive

New Castle Plant Of Lehigh Portland Cement Company Seeks Record

HOPE TO ADD TO PREVIOUS LAURELS

Starting June 1st, a perfect safety record will be sought for the month by the New Castle plant of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company, it was announced today by W. H. Kleckner, superintendent. The local plant will co-operate with 160 other cement mills located in United States, Canada and Cuba to put across one of the most concerted campaigns against accidents ever inaugurated by an entire industry. The drive is known as the annual June no-accident campaign and is sponsored by the Portland Cement Association.

Papers pledging the local plant's support in the national campaign were explained. During the past nine years the Lehigh Portland Cement Company has been quite active in movements to protect its workmen. Plans are now being made which will completely eclipse all previous efforts and put the local mill in the front rank from a viewpoint of safety. A safety committee composed of 10 men has been appointed to carry the drive to every department and every cement mill employee. This committee will be in active charge of the efforts to completely banish accidents during the month of June.

"National recognition will be given plants showing a clean record for the month," Superintendent Kleckner said, "and there is every reason to believe we can set a new record. Not only are we striving for our employees to work safely during June, but during the other 11 months as well."

Starting June 1st the safety flag, presented by the association, will fly from the flagstaff of the mill and it will stay up just as long as the plant continues to operate without a lost time accident. Every employee will be on the alert to see that the flag is kept flying.

The New Castle plant of the Lehigh Company is one of the first mills in the state of Pennsylvania to win the Portland Cement Association's safety trophy for having operated one full year without a lost time accident.

BISHOP BAST IS FOUND GUILTY BY METHODIST BOARD

Bishop, Dr. Bast retains his standing in the ministry. The "select number's" report recommends that "adequate provision" for his support be arranged.

The committee recommended that favorable consideration be given Bast by the committee on Episcopacy, for his support and sustenance until the next quadrennial general conference. He will probably be assigned to a charge in his former area, members of the committee indicated.

The verdict was not unanimous, it was learned, as several of the jurors stood out for suspension for a quadrennennium, and others for an indefinite time.

Bast still may appeal the findings of the court here to the committee on judiciary of the church, and receive another ecclesiastical trial, probably at the next general conference.

While the matter of funeral processions is being considered and the plan of preventing other traffic breaking through, local undertakers could give thought to the plan that was seen in an Ohio city recently. Each car in the procession carried a small white flag, temporarily fastened to the left front fender. After the cemetery was reached the flags were removed. This is a much better plan for preventing traffic interference than that in use here of burning the front lights on the cars.

Although Rev. H. C. Weaver, First M. E. church pastor, may not know it, he had a visitor romping in the front yard of his parsonage on Highland avenue today.

The playful little fellow ran all o'er the preacher's lawn and didn't do any damage.

It was a large red squirrel which had a hole in one of the trees in that section.

The squirrel apparently realizes that he is safe from molestation and scarcely moved when pedestrians or automobiles travelled by.

DODGE-SISMAN WEDDING TAKES PLACE IN LONDON

Knowlson Dodge, divorced him last summer. Shortly afterward she was married to Lieutenant Benjamin F. Manning who was stationed at Honolulu.

It was first reported that the wedding of Dodge and Miss Sisman would take place in Paris. This report evidently arose from the fact that Miss Sisman was a temporary resident of Paris.

Although rich Dodge has made a career for himself by the manufacture of motor boats, he has added millions to the family fortune. When he and his first wife were divorced he is understood to have settled $1,000,000 upon her.

do with me," the rejected suitor gasped before falling unconscious at her feet.

The Spanish beauty learned last Saturday that Columbres had a wife and four children in Paris and ordered him never to speak to her again, police discovered. He left her studio after a stormy scene. When he returned last evening he was all smiles. They quarrelled. A shot rang out and the dancer's screams were followed by three more shots.

Believe Murder Planned

Police said today that Columbres evidently had been planning to kill the dancer for several days. He left several letters, one of which gave instructions for settlement of his estate. Another, written in Spanish, was translated as follows:

"I loved her dearly and I have always loved her. She did not care for me. Life without her is not worth while."

Columbres, who is 37, is said to be the son of a wealthy rancher in Buenos Aires. If he recovers, which physicians say is doubtful, he will face a murder charge.

Miss Montero had recently been offered a lucrative stage engagement. She conducted a class of 50 pupils in Spanish and Mexican dancing. Columbres had courted her for 10 months.

Columbres Dies.

New York, May 17.—Horatio Columbres, 35, wealthy Argentine physician, who killed Maria Montero, 27, beautiful Spanish dancer, in her apartment here late yesterday, after she had refused to marry him, and then shot himself, died in a hospital today.

TEST OF A QUEEN

the official ball, which Chicago's elite had prepared in her honor. Mrs Edith McCormick Rockefeller expected to be there, as well as other notables. It was only human that the queen should want to look her best.

But, lo and behold, when she called for her ball gown, she was told by her maid that the trunks had not yet arrived. Imagine a woman, much less a queen, going to a ball in a foreign country, unable to appear in her fine robes. It might have flabbergasted the Queen of Sheba, but not Queen Marie.

Shops were closed, and the queen being tall and regally built couldn't borrow a gown from anyone's wardrobe. Did she get "fussed" and resort to that timeworn remark "I haven't a thing to wear"?

She did nothing of the kind.

Appeared in Negligee.

"Bring me my negligee," she told the maid.

The negligee, tucked away in a traveling bag that came with the queen, proved to be a wrap around affair of brocade and pearls.

Several hours later, exactly one thousand persons, recipients of special invitations to meet the queen, bowed before her majesty seated on an improvised throne and said "How d'y'do" as Marie diligently pumped their hands. The queen was beautiful and composed, wearing a rose brocaded gown over which the society editors raved next morning.

None knew until weeks later that the gown so regally worn made its first appearance that night outside the queen boudoir or compartment. A tuck here and a tuck there, under the supervising eye of her majesty, did the trick.

Saved "Snubbed" Hostess.

The second situation had to do with a woman snubbed by other women at a tea given in honor of the queen. The official hostess to the queen for Illinois, appointed by Governor Small, was the woman snubbed. The next day Queen Marie, who "got" the situation almost immediately, directed her chauffeur to drive to the woman's home. It was the only private residence visited by her majesty in Chicago, and the woman, instead of being pitied, was the most envied woman in the city.

It was Gary, at the steel mills, where Queen Marie saved a third situation. The queen, touring the mills in glass observation cars, sensed coldness in the atmosphere. The mills as one knows are full of working men who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. Perhaps they don't care for queens who've never had to work. Anyhow, during the first half of the tour Marie didn't get a "hand".

Chatted With Workmen.

Then the queen put her wits to work. Rising suddenly she commanded the car to stop near a group of workmen. Calling out in her pleasant voice she inquired whether there was a Roumanian present. A man nodded. She asked him to come forward, shook his hand, asked him about his wife and children, how long he had been in this country and if he had any kin left in Roumania. It broke the spell. The little group of workmen cheered, and from that time on the party was a complete success.

of Moose who were opening a membership drive.

Stops at Sharon

Following his last address he was met by Fred L. Rentz and Councilman D. O. Davies in Cleveland, O., and on the way to New Castle stopped at Sharon, Pa., to see his aged father. It was about 8:45 p. m. when he got to New Castle, somewhat fatigued from a strenuous day, but eager to speak to the members of the fraternity of which he is a member.

While his address was not a lengthy one he left some thoughts with the members of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite which were good ones. His subject was "Loyalty". "If a man is not loyal to himself then he can hardly be loyal to a cause or to another man" he said.

"These lessons which are taught in this fraternity should serve to make us better Americans" he said. "Just hearing them is not sufficient. Unless they leave their impress upon our minds and hearts, and unless we utilize them in our daily lives, then they are useless."

Much of his address was along the line of the fraternity, but the gist of it was a plea for loyalty to one another as Americans, loyalty to the government, and loyalty to self, to home and to God.

SOUTHERN TROOPS IN CHINA ADVANCE CLOSE TO PEKING

has withdrawn from Peking with a large force of picked troops and is on his way to Manchuria.

Advise Evacuation

Attaches of the United States legation in Peking were quoted as saying they did not anticipate any disorders but that preparations were made for any eventuality. Foreign residents of the city were advised either to leave or to remain in their homes.

The United States forces in Tien-Tsin and Peking consist mainly of marines who have been on duty in that country for years. They are under orders to do nothing which might provoke hostility of the Chinese but to protect American lives and properties.

In view of the fact that John Van A. MacMurray, the United States minister, recently concluded a settlement of the "Nanking incident" with the Nationalist government. It is felt in circles close to the United States legation that Americans are not apt to be molested if they remain in the background, according to advices from Tien-Tsin.

The Japanese troops guarding the Japanese legation and the Japanese compound have erected barricades. These troops, as well as all the other foreign contingents, are under orders to do nothing to provoke the wrath of the Chinese.

A number of foreign residents, chiefly British, have left Peking, said a dispatch from that city.

BIG DIRIGIBLE IS RETURNING TO SPITZBERGEN

nor the changing meteorological conditions near the North Pole.

No Difficulty With Ship

LONDON, May 17.—After traversing a vast ice-covered expanse of polar sea the dirigible Italia was early today believed to be nearing the unexplored piece of land known as Lenin Land (formerly Nicholas II Land).

General Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, apparently has had little difficulty in combating Arctic weather conditions. The dirigible has been functioning splendidly since leaving King's Bay, Spitzbergen, Tuesday afternoon.

Fog was encountered approaching Franz Joseph Land. This caused the formation of a coating of ice on the ship, but by flying low Nobile found better visibility and avoided the ice hazard.

When the ship reaches Lenin Land an ice anchor will be dropped and three men will be lowered to the ground to explore the region for scientific purposes.

After exploring Lenin Land Nobile is expected to head back for Spitzbergen. He should reach King's Bay some time tomorrow.

"Old Gold's smoothness was so obvious" said Miss Anne Morgan after the Blindfold cigarette test

MISS ANNE MORGAN
Daughter of the late J. P. Morgan, resembles her distinguished father in both ability and breadth of vision.

"A decorator once told me that to appreciate the texture of a fabric or the glaze of a vase one's eyes should be closed. And to enjoy the fragrance of a perfume one should close one's eyes . . . one's other senses seem all the keener. That was the convincing thing about the blindfold test. The aroma and the flavor of one cigarette were so marked . . . the smoothness so obvious that I chose it instantly. It proved to be the OLD GOLD."

Anne Morgan

Why you can pick them . . . even in the dark

IN THIS scientific cigarette test a blindfolded smoker tries four leading brands. The only question asked is, "Which one do you like best?" Why should one cigarette win time after time? What gives OLD GOLDS their captivating charm? The answer is very simple: heart-leaf tobacco. No heavy, coarse top-leaves of the tobacco plant . . . no withered ground-leaves. Only the cool and fragrant heart-leaves are good enough for OLD GOLD. It's sheer quality that gives OLD GOLDS their honey-like smoothness. Do you wonder that they win . . . even in the dark?

Coaches Debating Team For Three Winning Seasons

Debating Team Of Anne McGurk Makes Great Record In Detroit

Debating team of the Highland Park Junior college of Detroit, coached by Miss Anne McGurk, daughter of Mrs. Anna McGurk of Butler avenue, has won almost unequalled distinction in having for the third successive year won the state championship of the Michigan Junior College Debating league.

The team coached by Miss McGurk finished this season without suffering a single defeat. The year's record includes victories over the junior colleges of Flint, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Port Huron and also a win over Ferris Institute which is not a member of the league. Unanimous decisions were received in three of the five contests of the year.

Clipping from the Detroit newspaper containing a picture of the debating team states that all of the college's championships in the league since its organization three years ago have been won under the energetic and sage direction of Miss McGurk. Miss McGurk is faculty adviser as well as debating coach of the college.

Last year it was voted that the team winning the championship for three successive years should obtain permanent possession of the league's silver cup, but as the rule did not become effective until last year, Miss McGurk's team needs another successful season to own the cup.

Another daughter of Mrs. McGurk, Miss Madaline McGurk, is a successful teacher of history and science in the Hutchins high school of Detroit.

Take a Spring Tonic for a very GOOD REASON

You feel sluggish—lack pep—appetite gone, you do not care to eat when you should enjoy your meals — pimples and boils may appear. You need an alterative tonic.

Why it should be S.S.S.

Because S.S.S. is the one remedy tested by time and perfected by science, which has been demonstrated by the experience of literally millions of satisfied users and by scientific tests in clinical laboratories to increase the appetite and build up to normal the count of red cells in the blood. This is the true basis of health and strength — the bright eyes, the clear unblemished skin, the glow and joy of bodily vigor, and resistance to disease.

POISON-OAK
(Poison Ivy—Thunderwood)

We believe that S.S.S. will cure acute cases of poison-oak poisoning and will build up an immunity against further attacks. This belief is based on scientific reasons and is confirmed by such experience in actual cases as we have been able to collect. But we wish to be sure of success in all cases before beginning to advertise it as a specific for this ailment. Try it and write us your experience.

—purely vegetable

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, you don't have that tired, languid feeling when you awake in the morning. Instead, you feel refreshed, ready to meet the world.

Your appetite is keen—you enjoy work or play — your skin is clear, cheeks naturally rosy.

All this because rich, red blood builds and sustains the body.

IMMIGRATION AND ASSIMILATION

THE immigration system in operation in the United States is designed to admit to this country natives of other lands best fitted for American citizenship. It is not the intention of the government to provide a refuge here for Europe's criminal and radical outcasts.

It is the purpose of the existing law to assimilate new arrivals as rapidly as possible and without disruption of the nation's social, political and economic order. In order to insure these aims, provision has been made not only to select the newcomers, but to reject any of them who, after arrival, prove they are not acceptable.

The American government asks only that Old World quarrels be forgotten by strangers who pass its gates, and that full advantage be taken of benefits that are offered them here. The latter are too manifold to enumerate.

Every citizen has the right to advocate such lawful changes in the government as he believes desirable and necessary. No citizen or resident has the right to advocate the use of force to bring about changes. It makes no difference in whose behalf such tactics are employed.

The vast majority of American citizens prefer evolution to revolution. They can see where improvements can be made and have enough faith in the American people and their government to believe that both are improving by natural processes of evolution, which though slower are more effective than revolution. America has discovered that it pays to speed up production of all things except governments and political innovations.

EFFECTIVE WAR ON BANDITS

CHICAGO has originated a novel and efficient method of identifying gunmen, bandits and other criminals and finding witnesses of crimes who can identify the perpetrators.

Each Friday the police department begins a drive to bring all suspicious characters into headquarters. On Sunday morning they are led before an audience composed of victims and spectators of robberies, assaults and other crimes. At the same time moving pictures are taken of the suspects and exhibited in the theatres of the city in the hope that victims and witnesses unknown to the police may recognize criminals.

Several notorious criminals, including three fugitive murderers, have been identified by this means. So great is the threat of the week-end "show-up" that suspicious characters are becoming increasingly difficult to find from Friday to Sunday.

It is highly probable that a week-end exodus will in time be a permanent removal, at least with a portion of Chicago's underworld. In that event other communities must assimilate some of her undesirables, if their police neglect to scrutinize suspicious new arrivals.

Seven states are confident that Chicago's outcasts will avoid them because of their statutes providing life imprisonment upon conviction for the fourth felony. Such laws are more feared than the police by the habitual criminal.

THE NEW LEISURE

THE eight-hour day, vacations, afternoons off and a determination among business people and others to have a little play have given the American more hours of leisure each day. Leisure has been added to the daily routine of eating, sleeping and working.

This new leisure has been appropriately named the "new freedom." It heralds the emancipation of the average man. It stands for a time in American history when life is something more than a business of getting sufficient sleep and food to support the body and mind through the hours of work.

The public health is being benefited through the devoting of leisure hours to motoring, boating, bathing, hunting, golfing, baseball, football and other sports and amusements. The public mind is benefiting from the employment by many of their leisure in reading good books, attending good shows, patronizing good music and in continuing the education begun in school and college. That is that part of the public health and the public mind which is using the new freedom for these things, is so benefiting.

That the uses of leisure provide a national problem and that many are not making the best of their larger freedom is evident from the efforts of the Carnegie Foundation to convert the leisure hour of every man and woman into an hour of mental and physical improvement.

TRAFFIC'S TOLL OF GAME

FEW peaceful inventions of man have proved more destructive to life than the automobile. It takes an alarming toll in human lives in the course of a year and destroys feathered creatures and four-footed animals by the hundreds of thousands in Pennsylvania every twelvemonth.

The motor vehicle has become one of the deadliest enemies of small game and birds. That the poultry raiser suffers a considerable loss is widely recognized but the public has given little thought to the extent of the destruction among bird and wildlife.

Game conservationists must take into account this new factor in plotting their campaigns for the restoration of good small-game hunting. Where rabbits are not plentiful, automobiles probably kill as many in a year as gunners shoot in a season. Conservationists and hunters look kindly upon the automobile for the aid it is giving them in the decimation of night-prowling and game-stalking cats.

Most drivers doubtlessly try to avoid running down rabbits and birds, and certainly no motorist will deliberately hit a skunk or a large animal. Yet rabbits and skunks suffer the most. There is nothing to do but wait the coming of that generation of dumb creatures to which caution on highways will be as instinctive as other instincts of danger.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:11. Sun rises tomorrow 4:41.

It is now claimed that sauer kraut brine has positive medicinal qualities. We wouldn't be surprised. Heaven knows it's strong enough to give a layman that impression.

It is said that the demand for hay in western Pennsylvania has fallen off greatly and the farmers cannot sell it. Well, there isn't anything around any more that eats hay. Autos will not do it.

An official close to Col. Lindbergh says he can have a million dollars simply by being married before the camera. Yea, that's all very well, but the fly in the ointment is that he'd be married.

High-Hatting.

The one individual, male or female, who does most to give mankind a pain in the neck is the high-hatter.

Some people high-hat everybody, and nearly everybody high-hats somebody; but anybody who high-hats anybody is disliked by everybody.

The advice to high-hatters is brief: Don't.

You may be better looking than other people, or you may have a little better education, or you may have a little more money, or you may have a little bigger reputation, but whoever you are and whatever else you are, if you are a high-hatter you're an ass.

You can't possibly be above everybody; it isn't probable that you are above 10 per cent of the people. And if there are others more important than you, what right have you to swell up?

Get that stuff out of your neck and be decently humble. People will like you better.

We hear that fathers in some parts of Pennsylvania are making efforts to keep their sons from taking the family busses out for joy rides. We can see a lot of trouble for fathers who would even think of that. The family bus seems to be controlled by others than the head of the house, be it ma or pa.

The New York Commission of Correction says crimes of violence are declining. In the event you're held up by a thug in broad daylight—which isn't unlikely—you can just tell him that sort of thing isn't being done any more and it will probably be all right with him.

It's going to be some time before any enthusiast gets a ripe tomato grown in the open air around these diggings this year. About Sept. 1 is a fair guess.

New Jersey's peach crop is said to be good. Some times the peach crop gets to be poor right in the blossoming season.

Over the 20-odd thousand miles of railway in Great Britain passengers last year took 1,746,000,000 journeys. And out of that enormous total the number of journeys that ended fatally for passengers was—exactly one. And that one did not die until 10 days later—from the effects of the shock of a collision.

After the recent riot in Foochow, China, the resident Methodist bishop there cabled home, "Wife left for Manila. Everything quiet here."

A Los Angeles woman wants ten dollars damages from a man who ruined her slippers during a dance. But how can anyone tell where a woman is going to put her feet in these new dances?

Now we are told that aviation will advance the study of astronomy. It may help astronomy if the planes can get near enough for a look, but how about the planes that go so deep into the water they are never heard of again? What do the occupants of those planes learn?

No doubt the undertakers will want some governmental favor some day. A bill before congress providing to guarantee a certain number of deaths each year and make up in cash payments any difference between actual production and the stipulated number of deaths might be what would be demanded.

One of the great things in this country is that too many people only say what they are paid for saying. Others get arrested for saying what they think and then again others get plenty for what they do or think.

An anarchist in Boston has had his automobile license revoked because he drove the bus while he was intoxicated. No doubt he yells more discrimination at such an unholy act of the police.

You don't need a breakfast room. If you crave discomfort, you can crawl under the dining table.

What this country needs more than anything else just now is the invention of some device to talk back to a tiresome radio announcer.

Silence is often just plain lying.

Can any one tell why a bread wagon driver should wear a uniform?

A college professor says the perfect home will not be built until one is constructed that guarantees its occupants against annoyance and embarrassment. Something in the way of a structure to look like somebody else's home, we suppose, and fool the bill collector.

If you want to get in bad just say something generally about people not paying their just and overdue debts. You can't say anything worse in this column.

The human race may have come into existence sixteen million years ago, as a scientist claims, but up to the present time it hasn't done a whole lot to justify it's existence.

A murderer in Ohio sentenced to life imprisonment will be kept in solitary confinement on the anniversary of his crime each year. The murderers have to have something to make them remember the days they were naughty on.

Some day an exasperated pedestrian is going to wrap himself in barbed wire and give some motorist the surprise of his life.

There are liars who just lie because they are sore because they think some one is getting a graft they would like to have and then there is just the vicious liar who hasn't brains enough to do anything else and no one expects anything else from him—or her. Doing harm is their daily and nightly occupation.

The dumb shall speak hereafter. If only they would wait until then.

A feminist is trying to start a move to provide women with private rooms or dens which will correspond to similar layouts usurped by men. Ah, yes, we used to know a chap who had one of those places of solitude and retirement, but one day he woke up to the fact that he had been gradually edged out of it and now it is frankly a full fledged sewing room.

Anyhow, you don't hear any more Ford jokes.

A lady tennis player in New York left an overnight bag containing one hundred thousand dollars worth of jewelry in an ordinary vulgar taxicab and she does not know where the taxi went to. We would never be that careless with that amount of plunder. If we had to go to New York we would put it in a bank or bury it out along the Big Run until we got back.

A Connecticut man was struck by an automobile while picking up a dime on the street. John D. ought to be more careful about throwing his money around like that.

No matter how a girl stands, figures don't lie.

If you want to see a busy place go up around the Scottish Rite Cathedral these days or evening and you will see a lot of visitors from out of town who are interested in the great Cathedral. Treat 'em fine!

Manners.

Some good manners can be learned, but tact, which is thoughtfulness, is a gift. It is the peculiar possession of the well-bred—an inheritance of gentility from thoroughbred ancestors.

All low-born people are naturally tactless—thoughtless—and however hard they try to conceal it, their inborn disregard of others will at times reveal itself and reveal what they are.

People of this type are tactless in various ways, but all have one trait in common. They interrupt.

They seldom permit anybody to complete a sentence. Even if they have asked a question, and desire an answer, they will interrupt before a dozen words have been spoken.

The effect is irritating, embarrassing, humiliating and leaves the victim of their ill-breeding helpless; for unless he is as ill-bred as they, he can only keep silent or answer their questions with monosyllables.

Listen to a group in conversation and you can tell from what class of society each member inherited the blood that is in him.

Last year an Ohio farmer claimed he had three kinds of apples growing on one tree. We have had that happen and they were good, bad and indifferent.

It is claimed that a man was killed by a bolt of lighting while taking a drink of bootleg whisky, but how do they know that the lightning killed him?

A certain business man sat in a fashionable coiffeur's shop with his little daughter while his wife was having a marcel wave put in her hair. The little daughter, as she played about, patted her father's bald head and said in a loud voice that all the women who were getting waved could hear:

"No waves for you daddy—you're all beach."

The deaths of eight people killed by two automobiles being hit by a train while the automobiles were racing with one another near Erie, was blamed on the drivers of the cars. They are both dead, so it's easy to blame it on them and in this case seems to be right place to place the blame.

Gov. Al. Smith of New York was once rated as a "truckman" and later as a "gardener." Well, knowing something about gardening isn't a handicap, and we know that. The governor isn't doing so badly now, considering all that.

Vinegar firms are all in a big merger now and we presume we may now look for a corner in acetic acid.

When the plumber makes a mistake he charges for it.

When a lawyer makes a mistake it is just what he wanted because he has a chance to try the case all over again.

When a carpenter makes a mistake it's just what he expected.

When a doctor makes a mistake he buries it.

When a judge makes a mistake it becomes the law of the land.

When a preacher makes a mistake nobody knows the difference.

But when an editor makes a mistake—Good night!

It is said that because female deer are so plentiful in Pennsylvania, hunters will be allowed to shoot them instead of bucks next hunting season. Pood deers!

An Annoying Atheist.
Mr. Rosenwald's Gifts.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

The Rev. Dr. Straton complained of C. L. Smith and he, who calls himself an atheist, convicted of annoying a clergyman, will be sentenced to fine or imprisonment. He might, but probably won't be sentenced to three years in jail.

A few years ago he would have been burned alive, not for annoying a clergyman but for insulting God.

We treat atheists more mildly now perhaps on the theory that if God wanted them burned He would do it Himself.

The success of the individual is often the good fortune of the many.

Julius Rosenwald who began with a public school education; courage and the desire to help others has established a fund "for the benefit of humanity" recently adding $2,000,000 to other gifts now in excess of $20,000,000.

Mr. Rosenwald gives the money to trustees for the public benefit, and imposes only one condition, "that all the money shall be spent, principal and interest within 25 years of Mr. Rosenwald's death."

May that death be long postponed.

Gen. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania railroad, co-operating with President Storey of the Santa Fe will make flying a part of regular travel across the continent.

The plan, using airplanes by day and Pullman cars at night mentioned in this column a couple of weeks ago has been fully elaborated.

The Atlantic to Pacific traveler will take a fast Pennsylvania train in New York at 6 p. m. and next morning at Columbus, O., change to an airplane flying 100 miles an hour all day with Fred Harvey feeding him.

At Wichita, Kan., he will board a Santa Fe sleeping car. Next morning in New Mexico another airplane will take him to Los Angeles arriving at 5 that afternoon.

Two nights in a sleeper, two days in a flying machine. Next will come the 10-hour hop from the Atlantic to the Pacific with no change.

Moving picture enthusiasts will soon have sound with their pictures. Actors will talk and sing on the screen and news reels will enable crowds to see and HEAR what happens.

Moving picture actors will need teeth, faces, legs and hair.

Soon the actor without a good voice will be a moving picture actor no longer.

William Box and his "movie-tone" aided by Walter S. Gofford of the big telephone company and Mr. Bloom of the Western Electric have convinced the moving picture industry that moving pictures in future will require "sound and fury."

Various changes will come actors with good voices will be imported to Hollywood or moving picture studios will be transferred to places where good voices can be found.

New York state has signed a check for $33,723,734 the biggest ever drawn by the richest state. The best part of it is that the money will be spent for public schools.

Not long ago every state spent more for prisons than for public schools and nothing at all for public libraries. There is progress.

Art objects from the bronge age and pottery made by Philitines are dub up in Palistine.

It is impossible to realize what it meant to the human race when Egyptians discovered probably by accident how to get copper from ore and went traveling over the earth in search of it.

A terrific conflagration in Rumanian oil fields includes seven wells and has caused many deaths. Forests are cut down, tunnels dug to carry away the oil. More waste.

A giant volcano on the island of Karakatoa determined to attract attention has made 7,000 eruptions in the past 24 hours.

The British have bootleg troubles on a small scale. Whisky secretly made costing less thai $1 a gallon wholesale is retailed at $15 a gallon. The bootleggers are Scotch. Samuel Johnson would have something to say about that.

Britons mourn because they have "lost $250,000,000 in antique art." They ought to rejoice because they have gained 250,000,000 modern dollars and use some of that money to develop or revive part of their own country. They have plenty of art left in museums and it doesn't matter whether Raphael's Madonna and Child stays in the private house of Lady Desborough or moves to Millionaire John Snooks home in America. In either case it is wasted.

Spain and Italy have a private agreement about fighting ships and Spain votes 600,000,000 pesetas for a shipbuilding program.

Our government will please notice that Spain will buy all materials, steel and everything else from Spanish manufacturers not from foreigners. Uncle Sam should do the same.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

HIGH LIVING

We speak of certain people as those who live high. Ordinarily we mean those who eat luxuriously, fare sumptuously every day, consume lobsters, champaigne and caviar, those who sleep in soft beds and generally pander themselves.

This kind of high living makes for softness and inefficiency. It usually winds up in boredom or black pessimism. Somehow or other the soul of man cannot thrive on chocolate sundaes. Lohengrin at last came to nausea living a luxurious life with the goddess of beauty in Venusburg. He longed for sorrow and struggle. He truly typifies that the life of man is incomplete without realizing something of the human conflict.

But there are people who persistently and constantly live on a high plane. Such persons occupy their minds with high problems and other things of high endeavor.

They do not let themselves down into the morass of indecency or despair.

It is easy for any one to give up, to say that the buffeting waves of this mundane experience are too much for him, and to live a miserable and complaining life.

This is low thinking. Just as a man is endowed with a spirit that can soar above the animals so this spirit can bring him down to the animal level.

One who lives in obscenity and dirt, who enjoys the evil things of existence and who scorns all high endeavor is, after all, but a wallowing hog.

We can take the high or the low view of whatever happens to us.

None of us are exempt from trouble, but we can bear it nobly or ignobly. Sorrow and loss come to all, but how shall we meet it? It may bring us to a kinship with God or it may drag us down to the level of Satan.

Let us think high thoughts, cultivate high emotions and indulge in high pleasures, and put away from from us all degrading thoughts, unworthy emotions or pleasures that soil the soul.

For every one who lives high, who takes a lofty view of himself and of his duties, the world is better off. Too often we think of ourselves as mere creatures of the dust. The high thought of ourselves is as sons of God, destined to a glorious career. Man will usually make of himself something like what he thinks of himself.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"WATERED STOCK."

Origin of the term "Watered Stock" is not explained in dictionaries of phrase and fable or in dictionaries of Wall Street and financial terms. In the latest "Encyclopedia of Finance," "Water Stock" is described as a metaphorical expression for over-capitalization.

A reasonably direct derivation is obtained from an old story about "Deacon" Daniel Drew. Before Drew became a Wall Street factor, he was among other things a drover. He bought and sold cattle on a large scale. Henry Astor, brother of John Jacob, was then one of the largest butchers in New York, but he dealt seldom with Drew, so the story runs, for Drew's cattle were apt to be scrawny. Astor wanted fat cattle.

One day, "Uncle Daniel" (some called him "Uncle" and others called him "Deacon"), drove a new herd into Harlem. He invested largely in salt which he spread over the pasture. The next morning he supplied plenty of water to the cattle, and sent for Henry Astor. When Astor arrived the cattle were plump. Astor was delighted and bought the herd, at 3 cents a pound on the hoof. With the money he obtained for this "watered stock" Uncle Daniel got the start which eventually landed him in Wall Street.

According to the "Financial Morals" of his day, doubtless the "Deacon" was well within the "Code." It was "Dog eat Dog" then, and it's "Devil catch the hindermost" now.

FOREIGNERS

One hears much critical talk about "foreigners". We have little right to make distinctions. This whole country is so new compared with some other great nations of the earth that we are all foreigners—all but the red Indians. To be sure, some men and women have been over here but six months. The oldest families have been here two or three hundred years.

And in the long run of time and the long processes of nature there is little difference between six months and a hundred years. It is a poor "knock" to say your fellow citizen is a foreigner.

HEIGHO FOR LIFE

Heigho for life and all that's in it!
The sunshine of the happy minute,
The laughter of the merry hour,
The perfume of the summer flower,
The thrill of each completed deed,
The brave heart of the friend in need,
The fun that's blended with the care
And all the beauty everywhere.

Heigho for life and all it brings us!
The song some passing warbler sings us,
The smiles of those who know us well,
The tales that friendship has to tell,
The jests that for the moment sweep
Away the cares and hurts we keep,
The books we read, and every sweet
Which now and then is ours to eat.

Heigho for life with good things laden!
The tender love of man and maiden,
The baby's smile, the neighbors fair,
The little gardens here and there,
The hills to climb, the streams to fish,
And all that any heart could wish.

Life has its burdens, hurts and stings,
But countless are its pleasant things.

CHARLES B. DRISCOLL

IN NEW YORK

Fred Knowles, who lives at the National Arts Club, in Gramercy Park, down toward the south end of Manhattan Island, recently bought an automobile. He keeps it in a garage in Mount Vernon, a suburb situated a good many miles north of New York City. When Mr. and Mrs. Knowles want to take a ride in their car, they hop a taxi or a subway train near the Club, and ride to Grand Central Terminal, at Forty-Second street. There they take a train, and for sixty cents apiece they are transported to Mount Vernon in a little more than half an hour. When they have finished their drive, they return to the garage in the suburb, board a train for Grand Central, paying another sixty cents apiece, and presently are in a position to take a cab or subway train home.

It sounds foolish if you live in Madison, Wisconsin, or in Beaumont, Texas. You want your car close to you. If possible you build your house so that the car will fit into a neat little niche in the basement.

But if you live on Manhattan Island the Knowles scheme seems about the most practical one going. In fact I have found that many New Yorkers park their cars miles and miles farther out than Mount Vernon.

If you keep your car downtown, assuming that you can find a place to keep it, the garage rent and the insurance are very high. When you want to drive out in the country, you find yourself in the thick of traffic that moves along at a funeral pace. You spend most of your Sunday afternoon getting out of the city, and when you are out it is time to start driving back again. And the wear and tear on nerves and fenders is terrible.

A. J. Kennedy, an adventurous young man from Wichita, Kansas, called on me the other day. He had just landed from a sulphur boat. He wanted to see a bit of New York, and as it's a notoriously long way from Wichita, Kennedy simply went to Galveston, Texas, and asked the first sea-faring man he saw for a job. It happened quite luckily that the good ship "Sewall's Point" had just lost a coal passer by reason of the immigration inspector's noticing that the young man was an alien without proper papers. Kennedy got the job.

This young man (he is 21) shoveled coal for four days, in southern waters, without anything to eat. The ship furnishes plenty of good food, he explained, but the Kansan was too seasick to eat. Have you ever been seasick? Well, if so, try to imagine yourself shoveling enough coal to supply three firemen, eight hours a day, for four days, in extreme heat, without food, while the ship rolls in rough sea!

"Are you going back on the boat?" I asked.

"Oh yes!" he replied. "It's lots of fun! I wouldn't miss it for the world."

Well, that's what comes of being young!

Seniors Of High School In '28 Classes Over 360

More than 300 seniors will receive their diplomas at the June commencement exercises of the New Castle Senior High school when the latter is held on Wednesday June 6.

Principal Frank L. Orth of that institution stated yesterday that there would probably be a few graduate in addition to this number as there are at present several students whose graduation depends on their showing in the final examinations.

Fifty-four students were graduated in the January class of this year, the first of its kind to be held at the school, causing the total number of students receiving sheepskins this year to register around 360.

Prof. Orth also declared that in the January commencement of 1929 approximately 100 seniors will be given diplomas. "Each year the number graduating in January will increase for some time while that of he June class will decrease until the number is about the same at both commencements" he added. "Just as many students are entering the school at the January promotion now as are taking up work in the school in September.'

Buddy Poppy Plans Are Now Maturing

Committee In Charge Is Active And There Will Be Plenty Of Helpers

At the present time, the plans for the sale of Buddy Poppies on Saturday May 26 on the streets of the city, are maturing in an excellent manner.

Never before has there been such co-operation extended the Veterans of Foreign Wars as is being given at this time and for that reason, there is every reason to expect the poppies will have an unusually large sale.

The committee of Harry L. McBride Post No. 522, Veterans of Foreign Wars, in charge of this event, consists of William S. Lewis, chairman, William H. Dunlap and Orville Potter.

This year there will be plenty of young girls available for the street sales, the High School and Benjamin Franklin Junior High School girls being pledged to turn out in numbers sufficient to make it possible to cover every section of the city, where it might be considered possible to sell a poppy.

It will be a difficult task on May 26 to avoid the purchase of one of these official Buddy Poppies.

THIEL COLLEGE GLEE CLUB WILL MAKE LATER VISIT

Owing to the recent death of Miss Beulah Bauer who was recently voted the most popular girl at Thiel college Greenville the exhibition concert which was to have been given by the Men's Glee club of the college at the Senior High school this morning was postponed until a later date.

The college singers were to have supplied the program for the assembly exercises of the local school today but a telephone message to Principal F .L. Orth from Greenville late Wednesday notified the school of the postponement.

French Surprised By Gold Exchange

Reveal $92,000,000 In Gold Shipped To France From United States

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 17.—Great has been the surprise and bewilderment of the French people to learn that $92,000,000 in gold has been received in Paris from New York since the beginning of the year and that there is still $60,000,000 to come from America later in the year.

It took the Bank of France to put the people right.

"No, the United States is not paying any debt to France, for she owes us nothing," announced the bank. "This gold represents dollars purchased by the Bank of France in America at the beginning of 1927 and "earmarked' for France. After all these shipments are nothing more than a transfer from one vault to another."

WHICH WAY?

Not so easy to tell which way the folks of this world—and especially of these United States—are going. When the country was new, farmers raised their barns by the kind help of their neighbors and a barrel of rum. In those pioneer days the preacher, after his first sermon and his first calls on the folks of the parish, sometimes had to be helped home because he had accepted a bit too much of his good neighbors' hospitality.

Dr. McCurdy, director of physical education at the International Y. M. C. A. college, reports from a diary written by a student in an eastern college between 1876 and 1880. It speaks of excessive drunkenness on the part of students as a common occurrence.

SHOCKING

We are sometimes shocked by things simply because they are new. A thing that at first sight seems shocking may, upon analysis and reflection, be found merely new and not bad. Some of the customs of young people today are described as shocking. Examination shows the customs somewhat different from the customs of their parents and grandparents but not always worse. Weaknesses of one sort or another are characteristic of each passing generation. Some are a little more pronounced in one direction and some in another. We must make our estimates from the totality of character. Everything considered it seems likely that the character of the present generation is fully up to the character of the past. We must, of course, take into consideration the fact there are notable exceptions in many families.

Relief Planes To Continue Journey

(International News Service)

ST. GEORGE'S N. F., May 17.—The two army amphibian planes under the command of Major General James E. Fechet were expected to take-off from here for the Labrador coast on the straits of Belle Isle today to escort the monoplane Bremen to New York.

According to information received here, the Bremen has been repaired and a runway has been constructed to facilitate its getting into the air. If Fred Melchior, the Junkers expert, who is in one of the army planes, finds the Bremen ready for an immediate start, the relief expedition hopes to escort the plane back to this place before nightfall.

It's just the principle of the thing. If the minimum speed limit was 45 miles, people would howl for liberty to go slow.

PETER'S ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

CURIOUS NEIGHBORS COME TO CALL

"Well, well, wifie, you put one over on Auntie that time, didn't you?" chuckled Mr. Oriole. "You may as well get ready for company. I'll bet my tail feathers that before long Aunt Busy-body will have sent the crowd here."

"Oh, bother!" exclaimed Mrs. Oriole. "I don't believe I shall stay home. Let the girls come and look at the nest if they want to—it may give some of them a good idea. I feel like going for a fly in the sunshine. This will be my last day of complete freedom and I don't want to stay home.

"Oh, dear me! It is too late to fly away. Here they come now. I can't slip off without being rude. Why, good afternoon, Mrs. Flame Wing. Greetings, Madam Bright Eye. How-do-you-do? How-do-you-do? Delighted to see you all."

Peter curious to see what the newcomers would do and say, climbed to a branch where he could have a better view of what was going on.

Not only had all the lady Orioles arrived, but they had brought their husbands along as well to see the wonderful nest with a window in it. Now they were chattering together like a lot of magpies. Some liked it and some didn't, and none of them was a bit backward in expressing his or her opinion.

"How beautiful the Orioles are!" thought the boy, as he watched them fluttering about, darting from twig to twig—little sudden flashes of flame. Then Peter heard a new sound that distracted his attention from the crowd. Some one was crying or squealing—he couldn't quite mak out which.

He listened. It seemed as if the was more than one—two or thr voices seemed wailing together. Wh could it be? The noise came fro somewhere close at hand.

Peering about through the branch at first he could not discover a thin But the crying continued

"Peep! Peep! Peep! I'm hungr Chip! Chip! Chip! I am tire Cheep! Cheep! Cheep! I want go to sleep! Peep! Peep! Peep! wish I could fly away!"

At last Peter spied a scarlet thr hanging from a twig so close by th he could have touched it, and th he gave a sudden start. How stu he was! He was staring straight an Oriole's nest and hadn't guess what it was. There is hung from t very end of a forked branch toug enough to bear its weight, but s slender that no cat, no matter how hungry he might be, would dare ven ture out upon it. This nest had n window, but the boy made up his mind to see what was inside. He was sure the voices came from within.

So softly Peter leaned over and peeped into the opening at the top.

Federal Probe Creating Stir In Pittsburgh

Superintendent Walsh Issues Restraining Order On Probe Of Record Books

CITY IS GRANTED REPRESENTATION

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Halted in their investigation of police records by restraining order from Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh, last night, Federal investigators today were reported to have reached an agreement with city authorities whereby the work will be continued in the presence of City Solicitor Charles A. Waldenschmidt or a city attorney.

Walsh's order came soon after a corps of Federal attorneys, had begun their inquiry into records at outlying police stations in an effort to trace what disposition had been made of liquor arrests. The information was to be used in connection with the Federal grand jury prohibition investigation now under way here.

Despite protests and threats of legal action the Federal attorneys were immediately halted by police.

A total of 140 witnesses yet remain to be heard, government authorities said. Indictments are not expected to be returned until next Tuesday.

Charged with perjury in connection with his testimony before the grand jury, John Bukowski, 63, was arrested in the corridors of the Federal building, on a complaint filed by prohibition officers. He was later released under $2,500 bond pending a hearing before the commissioner.

History Of Life Related To Jury In Murder Trial

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Taking the stand in his own defense Wednesday, Cecil Clyde Campbell on trial for the hammer murder of his wife, Mary McLean Campbell, narrated the story of his adventurous life.

It was a tale of triumphs and vicissitudes, success and failure. Campbell as he told the story held his right hand on his head most of the time and his eyes bore the contention of his counsel that he is going blind.

Campbell beat his wife to death as she lay in bed at the Grand Hotel on February 6 last. His act was the culmination of a death pact, he declared, but he lost courage to end his own life.

COAST GUARDS SEIZE LIQUOR CONSIGNMENT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Nine thousand bottles of whiskey with an estimated bootleg value of $90,000 were seized early Wednesday by the coast guard cutter No. 213 which captured a motorboat seeking to land the liquor in Raritan bay.

How To Achieve Beauty

By MME. HELENE RUBINSTEIN
Noted Beauty Expert

Unselfishness as a Beautifying Quality

Why do so many of us think that beauty is only a matter of eyes and skin and hair and figure? Why do so few of us realize that beauty must come from within, or the surface is a living contradiction of the whole effect imperfect and inharmonious? Why do we forget that the exterior is only important as an integral part of loveliness, necessary, of course, but not the whole of it!

A woman must be poised, she must be gracious, she must be gentle to achieve that intangible quality we call charm. And she cannot be all or any of these things until she has learned to step out of herself. To cultivate a complete lack of that egotism which fancies the world revolving around her, her actions, her words, her successes or her mistakes.

Self-consciousness is conceit! It means nothing more than a centering of your mind on yourself, and after all, there are so many big things in the world, how can you be self-conscious about such a very small thing as yourself?

The woman who is thinking of other people, hasn't the time to spend a great deal of thought on herself. She is so busy, giving—giving of her time, her energy, her kindliness—that the world only exists for her in relation to the service she can offer it. Those are the women who are the true leaders of the world. They are the pioneers, and theirs is the beauty which is everlasting.

Perhaps they will not shake a world or topple over thrones, perhaps they will never launch a thousand ships, or even christen a motor-boat. But they have no wish to be Cleopatras or Trojan Helens. They build kingdoms of their own, and they dominate their subjects through the beauty of their soul.

It distresses me to have young girls resign themselves to self-consciousness. For there is nothing so simple to correct, when they have first cultivated the will to do it.

Have you ever noticed the man famed for his shyness become launched on the subject most dear to his heart? All his timidity drops from him like a cloak. He is interested, animated, alive. He has lost his self-absorption in a topic more important to him that he is to himself. The occasion becomes a success, the man popular.

The best way in the world to cure that state of inverted ego, which we call self-consciousness, is to become interested in someone or something which lifts you out of yourself.

Develop a hobby. If you are big enough to do it, choose the hobby of service, do things for other people. They can be simple things, humble things. You are not doing them for the effect they will have, but just for the joy of doing.

If that comes too hard, try working out the scout rule of "one good deed a day, and for the rest of the time, 'earn a little about the world you live in." Read about science or history or art. Gather a sufficient knowledge of current events to be able to discuss them sensibly, not just for the sake of keeping a conversational ball rolling—nothing is so futile as empty talk—but because they are interesting, vital and well worth the time it takes to study and to appreciate.

Read good books, go back to the classics now and then, and add the lovely jewels of their immortal beauty to your mental treasure chest. You won't remain self-conscious long. Before all the wonders of the world, the splendor of the heavens, and the beauty of life, your own little affairs become too petty to bother about.

And for every step you take forward, you add to the loveliness and perfection of the Inner Beauty, without which all the rest is worthless.

How One Woman Ended Eczema

Severe Case All Over Her Body, But Now She Is Better

Here is just another case of how Peterson's Ointment conquers the terrible itching of eczema after other treatments had failed.

The same kind of a story comes from all over the country. After others fail Peterson's Ointment succeeds.

This letter from Charlotte Brandeau, of Swansea, Mass., is worth reading: "I used Peterson's Ointment and soap for a very severe case of eczema. It was all over my body. I have tried many things to cure it, but not one of them gave me a cure. I saw the ad of Peterson's Ointment in the Fall River Herald and now I am better. I do not go without your ointment and soap in the house, and recommend it very much."

Get a box of Peterson's Ointment at any drug store in America for 35 cents—it won't disappoint you.

Forestry Fires Costly To State

Four Gangsters Held For Murder Of Brooklyn Man

Young Dock Loader Is Shot To Death On Darkened Pier Near Brooklyn Bridge

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—After being grilled by police for several hours, four alleged gangsters were locked up in Brooklyn early today charged with shooting and killing Edward McGuire, 26-year-old dock loader, on a darkened pier in the shadow of Brooklyn bridge last night.

McGuire, once a lieutenant of Wild Bill Lovett, ruler of Brooklyn's waterfront gangland, was attacked and killed by four men following a dice game staged to decide the supremacy of what was left of the old Lovett gang.

Police feared today that Brooklyn's gang war would break out anew as a result of McGuire's murder.

Reed Protests Against Acting In New Inquiry

Senate Orders Reed "Slush Fund" Committee To Probe New Jersey Primary

NEW COMMITTEE MAY BE NAMED

Missouri Presidential Candidate Says He Has Had Enough Of Investigations

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Senator James A. Reed, now a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, today voiced an earnest protest against the senate's action in ordering him to conduct an investigation of the New Jersey Republican senatorial election.

Reed protested in the senate that that he "did not want to direct any more inquiries," but the senate, by a viva voce vote, ordered his famous "slush fund" committee to probe the New Jersey primary, in which Hamilton F. Kean defeated former Governor Edward C. Stokes and others for the Republican senatorial nomination. The new inquiry was demanded by Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, when newspapers reported Stokes charged Kean with using money to win the nomination.

"I don't want to investigate anything," said Reed. "I'm a candidate for the presidential nomination and I've had enough investigations."

Senator Goff (R) of W. Va., another member of the committee, announced he would resign as soon as it was finally reported on the investigations held last year into the Smith and Vare elections.

If Reed and Goff do resign, a new committee may be named to supplant the famous Reed committee which investigated the Pennsylvania and Illinois elections of 1926.

Hopes To Educate Pedestrians Here

Traffic Patrolman Says Walkers Should Wait For "Green" Light

HANDING TAGS TO RED LIGHT VIOLATORS

Traffic Patrolman Tommy Jones has inaugurated a campaign of pedestrian education at the intersection of Mill and Washinfton streets, probably New Castle's busiest traffic corner. He believes that pedestrians should not step from the sidewalk to cross a street until the "green" shows on the traffic light.

During the day time Patrolman Jones pays particular attention to cars which park double and as a result several have received tags for violating a city ordinance.

Today he presented several tags to automobile drivers who drove their cars through the "red" light and says that from now on no leniency is to be shown by him.

"During the busy traffic hours I intend to stand in the street and sound my whistle and that means that no pedestrian should attempt to cross the street without getting the 'green' light.

During the past summers there has been a surge of people to board street cars and cross streets in violation of the safety first rule as shown by the "green" light.

Jones believes that pedestrians should obey the lights in the same manner as automobilists and he believes the campaign he has inaugurated will benefit trafic here.

Congress Plans Adjournment On Saturday, May 26

Congress Will Start Trek To National Convention Battlegrounds

HOPE TO ENACT TAX REDUCTION

Coolidge Aids Early Adjournment By Approving Two Major Bills

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 17. — The seventieth congress will close its first session May 26 and begin a leisurely trek to the national conventions, under plans finally approved by administration leaders.

The tax reduction bill alone stood as a barrier to the adjournment but administration leaders hoped for its passage in the senate today. A quick settlement of all differences between the house and senate and its final enactment by the end of the week. It was whispered, however, that failure to pass the tax bill would not delay the adjournment as the tax reduction would be applicable to 1929 payments and could be enacted next December in plenty of time to become effective next year.

When President Coolidge affixed his signature to the flood control bill, it was said, all chance for a summer session vanished. This was the one piece of legislation, according to leaders, which might have postponed the date of adjournment or possibly have caused Congress to return to session after the convention.

Predict Veto

The final enactment of the farm relief bill removed another, though lesser obstacle, to adjournment on May. 26. It was quietly but authoritatively stated that the President will veto this bill and that no attempt will be made to enact it over his veto. Farm leaders were said to have agreed on this course because of the hopelessness of any attempt to get Congress to make it a law over the President's formal opposition.

The new merchant marine bill also was to go to the White House today after its final enactment by Congress. This action likewise removed opposition to the May 26 adjournment date, as the President was said to favor the bill in its present form.

The Muscle Shoals measure was in conference, with indications it would be reported back and finally enacted later in the week or early next week. It likewise was said to meet with presidential approval.

Boulder Bill Pending.

The Boulder dam bill was pending in both house and senate, with its chances for enactment at this session doubtful. Senator Johnson (R) of California was leading a stubborn though apparently forlorn fight to have it enacted in the senate while Rep. Swing (R) of California was conducting a similar battle in the house. Reports indicated it might pass the house next week but a filibuster, fully capable of defeating it, is in waiting in the senate.

The adjournment of congress May 26 undoubtedly will find the tax reduction bill a law along with the flood control bill, the farm relief bill vetoed and pigeon-holed in house and senate committees, the merchant marine bill a law, Muscle Shoals operated as a power project and the Boulder dam bill side-tracked until the next session. These were the prospects today with but nine legislative days remaining before the scheduled adjournment.

Good breakfasts mean good days

A good breakfast starts you off to a good day.

And that's just what Heinz Rice Flakes do! Not only are they good because they taste so good. They're good because they do you good.

The reason is that these crispy, crunchy flakes are naturally "laxatized" by the use of the natural roughage of the rice. This imparts to the flakes the qualities of a gentle, natural laxative and is due to a new Heinz process in cereal-making. Thus Heinz Rice Flakes add to the "Joy of Living".

Aching Swollen Feet

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense agonizing throbbing foot pains when every well stocked drug store has Moone's Emerald Oil and sells it with an absolute guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture—You'd give anything to get relief, wouldn't you? Then try this:

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And best of all any offensive odor is gone for good—It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

What they've done is this—perfected a D-L Deep-Well Pump for wells as deep as 300 feet! This pump has a lot of new things about it that other deep-well pumps will come around to in a few years—maybe. Channel Steel Base, balance wheel that equalizes the up and down strokes; discharge head below the frost line, pumps from 125 to 400 gallons of water per hour.

But, this is only part of the story. See me for more facts about this new D-L Deep-Well Pump, and also about the full line of D-L Shallow-Well Pumps.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records by Traveling 1000 miles in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car—named for Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

Cascade Park Season To Open On Saturday

Opening for the season on Saturday of Cascade park will bring to thousands of people of this section the recreational facilities once more of one of the largest and most beautiful amusements parks of the country.

Cascade for a long time past has been the objective of many people from this vicinity, both for an evening of dancing and for all-day picnic outings. This season it will meet their desires for outdoor recreation in better and bigger ways than ever before.

Eighty acres of fine natural beauty equipped with an array of amusement features such as to be found only in the leading parks of the country and many exclusive features that cannot be duplicated, offer to motor parties, family reunions and large picnics unsurpassed facilities.

New Amusements.

New amusements have been added to the big midway this season by Manager Carl L. Shaner. One of them is the Tilt-a-Whirl, the latest invention in amusement park rides and one that introduces new thrills that are bound to please. Another is an entirely new ride under an old name, the Dodg'em. This is really a new ride that has many novel features.

The Gorge Ride, Tumble Bug, Laff-in-the-Dark, Seaplanes and other standard rides and features of Cascade complete an array of amusements the equal of any park in the country.

Rainbow Terrace has been remodelled and redecorated for the dancers of the 1928 season. Here the throngs from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio will find not only dance floor and surroundings to their liking, but one of the finest and most versatile dance orchestras in this section—Morrell Starke's Terrace Garden orchestra, which comes to Cascade direct from a full season's run of greatest popularity in Cleveland.

This orchestra was selected after hearings were given to 25 dance organizations of wide reputation. The musicians are masters of many instruments, permitting of many novel effects in the evening's program. They feature a violin trip with guitar and piano accompaniment for waltzes and introduce good singers and entertainers in many of their numbers.

Many Big Features.

The $125,000 triple swimming pool, with large pool for swimmers and bathers and other special pools for high divers and for little children, has been completely gone over and is ready for this season's bathers with accommodations that are unsurpassed. Crystal lake, close by, affords an array of other water sports. It is equipped with fleets of rowboats, canoes and a power launch.

An especially fine feature of Cascade is the children's playground, which is a park-within-the-park especially for the kiddies. Beside the array of free play devices there is a midway of selected amusements for the little ones, including the Brownie Coaster, miniature swing and plane, miniature steam railroad and the like. The playground is in charge of a trained attendant and nurse so that children may play to their heart's content and in perfect safety.

The pony track, beloved of all children, has been placed in a most desirable location by Crystal lake, and the site formerly occupied by it has been turned into a small athletic field for sports, races, horseshoe-pitching and games.

The picnic groves and pavilions, accommodating many thousands and supplying free electric-gas cooking facilities for picnickers, and the large automobile parking field are ready for the big days that are ahead for the park.

The Diary of a New Yorker

by CLARK KINNAIRD

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Who is the great leader of New York society now? This query comes in from a number of readers, indicating that there is considerable interest in the subject in the hinterland.

The answer is that there is no great leader acknowledged as such. New York society no longer is one exclusive body, but a number of groups. The "400" has become the "4000." Instead of one leader, New York society which means American society has a number of Great Ladies, such as the dowager Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, Mrs. Francis S. E. Drury, Mrs. Frank G. Griswold, Mrs. James A. Burden, Mrs. W. Goadby Loew, Mrs. Vincent Astor, Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt (who was Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt II), Mrs. August Belmont. There are of course, Gould, Drexel and other dowagers to be considered.

Inquiries from readers indicate that lots of persons would like to take that $65 motor bus trip from New York to Los Angeles. I have received inquiries on the subject from Arthur K. Rupp, Shiremanstown, Pa., M. L. Cogan, Charleston, W. Va., Mrs. E. C. R., Columbus, O., J. M. Smith, Augusta, Ma., and others.

The buses operate on a regular schedule, leaving New York daily at 10 a. m. The fare to Chicago is $21. Stops are made at convenient terminal points for rest and sightseeing. Complete information is available from either the Hotel Astor bus terminal or Waldorf-Astoria bus terminal in New York.

What do you want to know about New York? Address C. K., News Bureau, 2200 Times building, New York, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Every time there is a parade or the U. S. S. Los Angeles flies over the city or some similar event takes place employers lose thousands of dollars because of idle workers. As I write a navy dirigible the J-7 is moving over the city and I can see thousands of heads hanging out of skyscraper windows. The show will last for half an hour the boys and girls will talk about it for another hour and a half day's work will be lost.

The Fifth Avenue association tries to limit the number of triumphial processions along that thoroughfare. A welcoming parade means the disruption of a day's business. Most of the persons who usurp the pavements along the street gape at notables aren't of the class who patronize Fifth avenue shops.

Seeing a trans-Atlantic liner off is a popular midnight diversion. Whenever the Majestic or Aquitania go down to sea at the late hour there is a line of limousines down at the piers with millionaires, stevedores and wharf rats sharing the sight of a starry skyscraper floating down the Hudson.

Arrangements are being made for one of the biggest Grange picnics ever held in this part of the country when all the Granges of Northwestern Pennsylvania will meet for a picnic on August 3, the picnic to be held in the large orchard of J. A. Boak.

At a meeting of the Lawrence County Grange Masters and Lecturers held in the New Castle Y. M. C. A. it was decided to cancel the plans for Lawrence-Beaver County Pomona Picnic which was to have been held at Darlington Lake in June and concentrate on the larger affair.

Members of the Willard Grange will have charge of the "Ox Roast." A special picnic speaker will be secured and music, sports and contests will be included in the program. As plans are developed further announcements will be made by the committee.

Accident Record Lowered In April

Labor And Industry Department Shows Safety First Pays Throughout State

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Co-operation and activity of organizations interested in safety movements are attributed as the causes of the decreases in both fatal and non-fatal industrial accidents during April in the report for the state, made public today by the bureau of statistics of the Department of Labor and Industry.

During the month there were 139 fatal and 10,928 non-fatal accidents, the lowest record for any 30-day period in the last five years. Compared with the same month last year there was an 18 per cent decrease in the fatal accidents and a 13 per cent decrease in the non-fatal group.

During the first four months of the year accidents in both groups have shown consisted reductions as compared with the corresponding months of last year.

Officials of the department believe the increased reduction in industrial accidents is due to awakened public interest and the continued educational campaigns waged by state and private organizations.

Ford Interested In Aviation Growth, Is Perfecting New Fuel

Motor Magnate Believes Fuel Lighter Than Gasoline Will Aid Aviation

Says Airplanes Have Reached Limit Of Loading Capacity At Present Time

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 17. — The airplane has reached the limit of its loading capacity at present but the development of a fuel lighter than gasoline would do much to relieve existing limitations, Henry Ford believes.

Probably the next development in connection with aviation will be the discovery of this needed fuel, Ford told a group of newspapermen while here to receive a medal from the Franklin Institute. He intimated that experiments with which he was connected were now being carried in the search for the fuel.

His interest in aviation is growing daily, the motor magnate said and he would hesitate to say that as many airplanes will not some day be in use as automobiles at present. While the airplane is far from perfect yet, aeronautic experience and research are doing much to decrease its limitations, he asserted.

Interesting work is Ford's recipe for those who would stay young.

"I believe in work," he explained, but only work in which you are interested. That's the way to keep young. It may not work for everyone but it does for me."

"The thing to do is find something worth while that will hold your interest as long as you live and stick at it."

9c Gasoline For New Castle

A startling announcement that will be welcomed by the readers of this paper is the perfection of an invention that practically cuts gasoline cost in half. In actual test one gallon of gas has been made to run a car 59 miles. Thousands of cars have been equipped and the owners report amazing gasoline savings, more power, instant starting, quicker pick-up and disappearance of carbon. So that this invention can be installed on every car, E. Oliver, 999 2114 S. Third St., Milwaukee, Wisc., is seeking men in different localities to handle exclusive territory for him. To those interested he will explain his $5,000 a year offer. Write him for his proposition and free sample offer at once. —Adv.

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at present will not join the New York Central and Pennsylvania railroads in granting a 20 cents a ton reduction on coal for shipment to the Great Lakes and Northwest, it was definitely established here today.

A 10 cents a ton reduction on coal shipments from Fairmont, W. Va., district and four cents a ton on coal from the Connellsville district are the only rate changes which the railroad will submit to the commission at the present time, officials said.

GARAGE FIRE IS LOSS OF $7,000

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., May 17.—Fire caused by a carelessly thrown cigarette destroyed a garage with a loss of $7,000 and for a time threatened the business section of the town today. The blaze started in the garage located between the Green Tree Inn and the Chester County Trust Company building.

There is some curiosity in London as to whether the Prince of Wales is toppling a bit from bachelordom. When he goes riding the toppling is not a mere matter of conjecture.

Makes Rapid Climb

Starting with the pushing of a truck on the platform of his home town railroad station, F. W. Leamy, of Burlington, Vt., in twenty-five years has kept right on pushing his way up, until he is now executive vice-president of the Delaware & Hudson Railroad.

Traffic Jams Biggest Circus Day Problem For Local Police

With the exception of one indicated attempt at picking pockets and the efforts required last night on the part of the police department in straightening out the traffic jam in the vicinity of the show grounds the police department found nothing unusual in the visit of the circus here Wednesday.

The lone attempt at picking pockets was that reported by Officer Greer and there was no loss sustained in this case.

It occurred according to Officer Greer when twomen were crowding up in the rear of some other people who were getting on a southbound car at Mill street and Market Way. One of the men is said to have looked over the shoulder of a person who was counting some money.

It is said that one of the men suspected as being pickpockets, went so far as to reach into the hip pocket of a man in front of him. Discovered he denied doing so and then broke and run away. Fortunately for the man whose pocket was entered he did not have anything of value in it.

The Motor club had charge of arrangements for transportation.

PLACE SCREENS IN CASTLETON WINDOWS

Another sign of summer approaching is evident in that at The Castleton screening has been placed in all of the guest room windows. As there are 160 guest rooms in the hotel, at a conservative estimate, there must be at least 200 screens used.

Magazine Wins In Libel Action

Suit For Million Dollars Libel Fails To Net Plaintiff One Cent

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—A sealed verdict for the defendants was returned today by a jury in supreme court in the $1,000,000 libel suit brought by Dr. George H. Sherman, Detroit vaccine manufacturer, against Hearst's International magazine, Norman Hapgood, editor of the publication, and Paul H. Dekrier.

An article written by Dekrier, published in the December, 1922, issue of the magazine under the title of "Vaccine for Broken Legs," was the basis of the action. The writer branded Sherman as a Charltan for making and distributing vaccines purporting to cure 98 different diseases.

The victory was a full exoneration of the magazine and its editor and publisher. The defendants fought the case on the ground that the article contained nothing but the truth, and Justice Joseph M. Callahan so instructed the jury.

Justice Callahan's charge was unusual in that neither Max D. Steuer, counsel for the defense, nor Sidney Syme, Sherman's attorney, offered any exceptions. The jury deliberated seven hours.

The modern girl may put on more powder, but it isn't her fault. She has more rubbed off.

Stop Feet From Burning And Aching This Very Night

Soreness All Gone By Morning

You've got to get under the surface if you want to get rid of foot agony and misery—the distressing trouble is more than skin deep.

What your poor, inflamed feet are craving for is Joint-Ease—a penetrating, soothing, healing emollient that you can rub on tonight and banish the agony while you sleep.

You probably will never know what real foot comfort is till you give them a good rubbing with Joint-Ease.

Millions who have suffered untold agony from burning feet, but who can now walk miles without discomfort know this and you can get the same blessed relief this very night if you will put your faith in Joint-Ease.

Suppose you get a 50 cent tube today from any druggist in America with the distinct understanding that your feet are better—very much better in the morning—or money back.

On that basis you don't risk a penny. But give them a good rubbing so that Joint-Ease will have a chance to get to the seat of the trouble.

Cities Now Have 15,000 Miles Of Concrete Streets

Some 9,000 Built In Four Years; Increased Traffic Cited As Cause

CHICAGO, Ill., May 17—American cities had under traffic the first of this year more than 15,000 miles of concrete streets, says a survey made by the Portland Cement association. Mileage figures are based on a uniform width of 30 feet.

Nearly 9,000 miles of concrete street pavement have been constructed in the last four years, the total at the close of 1923 throughout the United States standing at 6,250 miles. Increased traffic on city streets is cited as one of the principal reasons for this necessary increase in rigid pavement.

Four years ago Los Angeles had paved 222 miles of streets with concrete; today there are 872 miles. Seattle on January 1, 1928 had laid 296 miles of this rigid pavement while four years back only 99 miles were so improved.

Five other cities besides Los Angeles and Seattle have over 100 miles each of concrete streets. These are Kansas City., Mo., Chicago, Atlanta, Portland, Ore., and Milwaukee.

Since 1924 Birmingham, Ala., has increased its concrete mileage from a total of two miles to over 50 in 1928. Dayton, O., had but five miles of concrete four years ago; today it has 32.

Chicago Youth Is Wounded By Thugs

Youth Walks Into Father's Store During Hold-up And Is Fired Upon

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 17.—Two youthful bandits were holding up a "soft drink" parlor early today when William Watson, 17-year-old son of the proprietor, walked in.

"I don't like your looks," said one of the bandits to young Watson, and immediately opened fire, two bullets taking effect in the youth's stomach. At a hospital it was said Watson probably would die.

Dan Rooney, recently arrested as a subject in the slaying of Pearl Eggleston, movie theater usherette, and a companion known only as "Duffy" were the holdup pair, witnesses told police. Rooney, it was said, did the shooting.

Note to Chicago: The Wild West rid itself of bandits. Haven't Chicago trees any limbs?

BESSEMER NEWS

CHAPEL

Chapel last week was under the joint management of Miss Smith and Mr. Winters.

School singing formed one of the features of the program. The Seniors en masse appeared upon the stage and sang several sweet and sad selections.

Dennie Radan gave the reading, "The Washerwoman", which was dramatized by Thelma De Arment. Miss Smith and Elizabeth Macklin entertained with a piano duet.

After a short address by Mr. Colton the program was brought to a close with a selection by the orchestra.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Bessemer citizens, closely following the ordinance of the board of health, are observing Clean-Up Week. This town housecleaning began May 14 and will end May 19.

All rubbish, tin cans, etc, are being placed in boxes, sacks and other receptacles and left at the end of drives to be gathered up later by the borough truck.

The purpose of all this is to make Bessemer a better place in which to live.

BASEBALL

Wednesday evening of this week Bessemer baseball fans were treated to a lively game with Shenango. The game was played on Bessemer field.

Tonight there will be a game with Mt. Jackson on the Bessemer field.

SENIOR PLAY

"Kicked Out of College", a college farce in three acts, is to be presented by the Senior class of Bessemer High in the school auditorium Friday night, May 18.

The plot itself is an active one. Bootles Benbow, the most popular boy in college, is so busy with inventing a patent airbrake and with his various and athletic activities that he finds it impossible to go to college. Accordingly he is dropped from the roll and is "kicked out of college".

His furious father threatens to disinherit him unless he marries and settles down. Bootles decides to take for his wife his roommate, Tad Cheseldine, who is the leading "lady" of the college play.

The scheme is successful for a while, but soon difficulties arise and before the closing scene Bottles is even accused of bigamy.

You will not fail to laugh, neither will you fail to appreciate the splendid characterizations:

Those taking part are: Bootles Benbon, Wilbur Stanley; Ted Cheseldine, Audley Snyder; Leviticus, John Radan Scotch M'Allister, Harry Howard; Shorty Long, Robert Griffin; Slivers Magee, Dale Kerr; Benjamin J. Benbow, James Williams; Sandy McCann, Tony Glassic; Officer Riley, Oliver Engle; Mr. Gears, Clifford Henry; Jonquil Gray, Naomi Farrel; Betty Benbow, Elma Haltunen; Mrs. B. J. Benbow, Hettie Crum; "Ma" Baggsby, Mae Beale; Mrs. Mehitabel McCann, Dorothy Nord; Selina McCann, Evelyn Glassel; Mrs. Juliet Snobbs, Pauline Sepic; Mlle. Mimi Fleurette, Ina Rienne; Salamanca Spivins, Sauve Samsa.

This play will be given tomorrow evening, beginning at eight o'clock.

EVANGELINE

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow's famous poem, "Evangeline", will be dramatized on the screen at the Bessemer High school next Wednesday.

This movie is being brought to the high school by pupils of the Junior High. These boys and girls are familiar with the poem and this semester the eighth graders worked out their own dramatization of it. The picture is put on by the Junior High for the Junior High, but these students may invite others.

STYLE SHOW

Toward the end of the school term several entertainments take place each year in the Bessemer High school auditorium. One of the most important of these is the annual style show and manual training exhibit. This entertainment is always popular among the Bessemer people, as it affords them the opportunity of seeing everything accomplished by the domestic art classes and the manual training classes.

This year the program will be given on Thursday, May 24, at eight p. m. Not only will there be a program by the domestic art girls, but also there will be an exhibit of articles made in the manual training classes by the boys and of articles made by the Arts and Crafts Club girls. A most interesting and entertaining part of the evening's program will begin when the boys of the Tumbling Club show their skill and strength in many difficult acrobatic stunts.

Included in the numbers of the domestic art program will be songs, accompanied on the piano by Elizabeth Macklin, monologues and readings. Of course, the most important part will be when the patch quilts, cooking uniforms and all other articles made by the girls are shown. The modern dresses always cause admiration because of the varied and pleasing patterns used in their making. Then the old-fashioned dresses which are donned by the girls always cause excitement and laughter, especially by the younger generation. The sight of these old-fashioned gowns may bring back happy memories to the minds of the older people, who remember when such dresses were in vogue. At the opening of this part of the program the girls will sing "Come, Folks and See the Style Show".

As a result of their fine work this year the Arts and Crafts Club will be able to exhibit the product of their year's work. These girls have all been interested and happy in their club They have painted vases, made trays woven from reed and worked on novelty lamp shades. Some of the lamp shades are of paper and others of cloth, covered with crystal. Paper flowers, made by the club members, are also to be shown and these will make the exhibit stand out more colorful.

Having constructed many attractive and useful articles during the year, the manual training department will show all of these.

This year will be the third year that there has been such a program. Three years ago the style show was held as a chapel program for the school and any chance visitors. Last year, because of popular demand, the show was held at night, so that more people could attend.

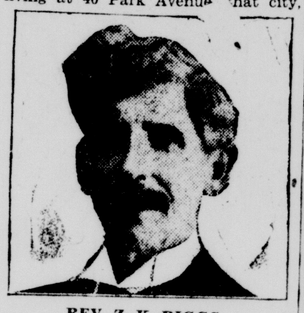

Next Thursday night a large crowd will, no doubt, be present. No admission will be charged.

The city is to open All Mail Week, but it is said that things would be better if more people here would only open air mail.

AGED MINISTER CLAIMS CHANGE WAS WONDERFUL

Attributes New-Found Health To Ten Herbs; Gladly Endorses Medicine.

"I cannot fully express my gratitude for the benefits Ten Herbs gave me," was the statement of the Rev. Z. K. Riggs, well-known and highly respected resident of Washington, Pa., living at 40 Park Avenue that city, according to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily demonstrating the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs. "I had trouble with my kidneys, which compelled me to arise two or three times a night," continued the Rev. Riggs, who is 68 years old, and has been a minister of the gospel for 40 years, having been pastor of churches at Wheeling, West Va.; Wellsburg, West Va., and Elm Grove, West Va. "I had a sore, stiff feeling and pains in my back. For the last five years, I had been troubled with dizziness and had been constipated more or less the last eighteen years.

REV. Z. K. RIGGS

"My stomach was badly disordered. I had a terrible heaviness and fullness after eating. Gas used to gather around my heart, especially after I retired, and I would have to arise up to get my breath. Gas would cause my heart to palpitate so badly that my family would be alarmed about it. My appetite was always very poor, and I usually had an aching and hurting through my stomach. My liver was torpid, and I felt tired out, and sometimes had spots before my eyes. I do not think I slept half the time that I was in bed.

"A friend told me about Ten Herbs, and I had confidence in your preparation when I learned that it was purely herbal. Your medicine has benefited my kidneys. I do not have to arise at night, and I have been relieved of the soreness, stiffness and pains in my back. Dizziness is gone, and my appetite is very good. My stomach is so much better that I can eat anything now without having that heavy feeling, shortness of breath, pains, gas, or palpitation. I have also been relieved of constipation and torpid liver. I sleep better, as my nerves are more quiet. I gladly endorse Ten Herbs to the public."

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. He will be glad to tell you how to take it to get the best results. Free sample given.

YOUNG MATRON MUCH ENTHUSED

Smilingly Tells of Amazing Manner in Which World's Tonic Banished Catarrh

Men and women in every section of New Castle are using World's Tonic Catarrhal Treatment and highly praise it for the surprising results it is bringing.

A young matron of Bridge Street is one of those who are highly enthusiastic about World's Tonic. A little over a week ago this young woman purchased a bottle of World's Tonic. Yesterday she returned and bought her second bottle. Then she smilingly told the man:

"Your treatment proved to be what I had long been looking for.

"My catarrh had become very bad and it seemed like I couldn't find anything that would help it. It was really getting serious. I'd been troubled for five years and had got to a point where I had headaches constantly, hawked and spit mucus all the time, had ringing in my ears, dry scales in my nose, watery eyes and just felt bad and disagreeable all over.

"Well, as I said, the World's Tonic Treatment was just what I needed. I haven't had a headache since I started using it and the mucus in my nose and throat also disappeared almost at once. The ringing in my ears and all the other distress of the catarrh has left and I'm feeling better all over than for a long time."

World's Tonic Catarrhal Treatment is made for catarrh. It not only combats catarrh in the head, nose and throat, but also at its very source—within the system, and that is why it is able to bring such amazing benefit.

Get World's Tonic today at Paisley's, McKee's Kut Rate Store, Smith's, Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. or any other reliable druggists. (251)

If You're Bored with the Manners Of Ordinary Cars

If You Want Speed and Life and Youth

If you are bored with trying to drive speed claims, "doo-dads," nickel plate, or price alone—

If you're seeking dash, speed, life, and youth in a motor car—

If you believe that getting somewhere is very important business, yet don't care to pay a fortune for the privilege—

Reo builds the Wolverine for you.

Paints it different colors, as the rest do. Gives it the "doo-dads" the rest have. Adds four wheels and bumpers in accord with custom.

But underneath Reo puts an automobile—an automobile that gets somewhere with speed and dispatch—an automobile that leaves much more expensive cars blushing self-consciously in the rear.

That's the Wolverine which Reo builds for $1195 and $1295; at Lansing, plus tax. See it in any Reo showroom. Drive it over any roads. Parade it through any company. You'll be surprised.

GETS ACTION ON FLOOD RELIEF

Up and down the Wabash river folk look to Mrs. Virginia C. Jenckes, who operates a 640-acre farm near Terre Haute, Ind., as a leader in the movement to bring relief from floods. High waters made farming a losing business for Mrs. Jenckes for many years. Then she took action. As president of the Wabash Valley Improvement association she has gotten results. Trips to Washington to confer with officials, the obtaining of a survey by army engineers, moving the Wabash up on the government flood relief program, and the organizing of farmers throughout her district, have been her accomplishments. Mrs. Jenckes is shown above. Below is a view of a levee on her farm.

Beauty Expert At New Castle Store During Present Week

Representative Of Dorothy Gray Company Of New York At New Castle Dry Goods Co.

In this age of activity for women in both the business and social world, it is necessary for them to look their best from the early morning until the last dance at night. It is a duty of the business women to be an asset to the office in her appearance, as well as her work.

No woman can be truly beautiful without a clear, healthy skin and this cannot be accomplished without special care and treatment. Women are beginning to realize this more each day but need further education in the fact that just any cream or powder is insufficient. You may buy costly dresses but decorate your face, where your true personality is expressed with cheap beauty helps.

Miss Ford, expert representative of the "Dorothy Gray" company of New York City, is in New Castle this week with headquarters at the New Castle Dry Goods company, to give instruction, and aid in your selection of creams, skin tonic and other beauty aids put up by the Dorothy Gray company. The products of this company, are widely advertised and highly endorsed by leading health experts of the country, as their ingredients are absolutely pure and not harmful to the most tender skin.

For the young woman, this treatment is a preventative, from sagging muscles, and telltale lines of age that first appear around the eyes and mouth, and for the middle aged woman it makes the muscles firm and gives new life to the skin.

Seek To Prove Church Slaying Premeditated

Continue Questioning Of Church Officials And Witnesses To Munhall Tragedy

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 17.—Completing his review of events leading up to the shooting of Philip Clark, in the First Christian church of Munhall, by F. J. Tyrrell, Sunday school superintendent, County Detective Michael McDermott, today continued questioning of members of the official board of the church.

The investigation is being made preceding the inquest into the tragedy in an effort to substantiate information given yesterday by Rev. J. D. Waters, pastor of the church and Thomas Thompson, board member.

Information already obtained has strengthened the state's contention that the murder was premeditated, authorities asserted. Only sufficient evidence will be introduced at the inquest tomorrow to warrant holding the attorney on a murder charge, they said.

Clark was buried yesterday from the home of his parents at Homestead after services in the church in which he was slain. The funeral was in charge of Rev. Waters. Two girls, who had witnessed the shooting, fainted at the services.

Large Crowds See Circus Performances

Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Pleases Local Audiences At Two Performances

New Castle may be getting air minded, but it always was circus minded. Any time a circus ever came to town the citizenry just hung up the rolling pin and fountain pen and trekked down to see the wonders offered under the big canvas and Wednesday was no exception when the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus played on the Cedar street lot.

Every approach to the lot was jammed with traffic afternoon and evening and from the appearance of the tent, the business manager of the circus must have been well satisfied. The afternoon saw the tent about two thirds filled and the evening nearly capacity.

Better Than Ever

Always an interesting show, the Hagenbeck-Wallace people have added to their attractions this season, and the result is a three ring galaxy of stars that delighted the thousands who crowded their way in.

Apparently nothing has been spared this season to make it a big outdoor attraction. The youngsters saw more clowns than have appeared with any circus in a long time, the animal lovers were pleased with the big display of wild and tame animals, and the usual hoop-de-doo that is attendant to any circus was present.

A blaring of bands and the crying of the barkers, and back of the canvas the full throated roar of lions and other beasts of the jungle. The aerial performers thrilled with their flying somersaults in mid-air and as a finish to the entire performance there was a patriotic tableau, which was lighted by fireworks.

Fortunately the weather was good and this permitted youngsters attending. No disorder was reported, and late Wednesday night the long caravan of cars moved out to Warren, O., where the show plays today.

"Senators waste time and energy." They do, indeed. Some of them try to insult Heflin.

HARD ARTERIES

Hardening arteries indicate high blood pressure, which means that the blood in the heart and blood vessels is under too great a tension—a condition which may end life suddenly.

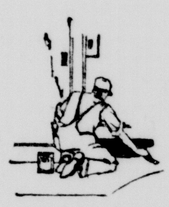

High blood pressure, indicated by hard arteries, heart palpitation, dizziness and difficulty in breathing, is the penalty of our abnormal habits of living. We place too great a strain on the vital organs, especially the liver. The liver becoming "limp" or sluggish, fails to cleanse the blood of the toxic poisons formed in food waste. The whole system then becomes toxic, with stomach, kidneys, heart and blood vessels affected.

It is generally recognized that the liver occasionally needs a little help. There is nothing better for this, as medical men know, than a little ox gall. Ox gall has been found to be a great stimulant for the liver. The genuine, pure ox gall is to be had, dainty and tasteless, in the form of Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents 10 drops of pure ox gall and costs less than 2c at good druggists. To be sure of getting the genuine, look for the name Dioxol and picture of ox's head on the package.

Free Test Take this ad to the druggist named below and he will give you a free sample of Dioxol tablets. Try them yourself. See the splendid, quick results. One trial of Dioxol and you will want a full package!

Mt. Jackson School Boy Writes About "Air Mail"

To George McCalla, aged 12, a member of grade seven in the Mt. Jackson consolidated school, belongs the credit of writing a very interesting story, entitled, "The Air Mail". The story follows:

THE AIR MAIL

Don and Kate were sitting on the grassy hillside watching the birds and butterflies. They heard a distant roaring, gradually coming nearer.

They saw a beautiful silver white airplane in the air above them. In large black letters, "The United States Air Mail" was painted on the side of the plane, just behind the wings.

As the plane passed over the aviator reached his hand out of the plane and waved. Scarcely had he withdrawn his arm when there was a loud report and a spurt of smoke and flame leaped from the motor. The plane wavered for a moment and then down it crashed, flames streaming from it. Down, down it went, until finally it crashed into the creek and was hidden by the willows.

There was a hissing sound as the flames were extinguished by the water in the creek.

The children gazed dazedly at each other. They could hardly realize what had happened. Should they run home and try to get help? That would be impossible because their father's farm was two miles away and the other farms in the community were as far distant. There was no time to go for help, for it would be too late to save the flier. They must go themselves before it was too late.

The children ran down the hill to the creek as fast as possible. In the bend of the creek lay the beautiful plane; now a mass of smoking wreckage. Don waded into the water and peered over the edge of the plane. The flier had a cut in his head from which blood was flowing and he was crushed against the controls. Don dragged him from the plane through the water to the shore.

By this time people who had seen the wreck were coming across the fields.

They soon reached the scene of the accident and Don's father had the aviator taken to his home. After a long illness he recovered and the government sent Don and Kate a letter thanking them for their brave services.

Beetle Spraying At Jenkintown, Pa.

Department Of Agriculture Selects Heart Of Beetle Ravages For Demonstration

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 17.—Jenkintown has been selected for a spraying demonstration in proper methods to cotrol the Japanese beetles, the Department of Agriculture announced today. Jenkintown was selected because it is in the heart of the area now heavily infested with the beetles and because it will be easy of access from surrounding communities.

Present plans call for beginning the spraying demonstrations about June 15, the time when such steps are most effective. The operations will be continued for a three week period. Every shade tree, shrub, flower, fruit tree, bush and green plants which are known to be subject to attacks by the beetles will be sprayed.

The object of the demonstration is to show what materials are needed and the proper use of the necessary machinery. It is believed that the results which will be obtained will encourage other community spraying movements in other sections of the beetle belt.

The work will be done co-operatively. The Department of Agriculture will furnish and operate the spraying machinery. Experts from the federal Japanese bettle laboratory at Riverton, N. J., will handle the spraying materials and mixtures. The extension service of Pennsylvania State College is making local arrangements and local citizens will furnish the spraying materials and labor.

Woodmen Sponsor Play Next Monday

"The Orphans" Of Childhood Appeal At Woodmen Hall, Next Monday

A play, "The Orphans", filled with childhood appeal, will be presented as part of a program to be given at the Woodmen hall in New Castle on Monday evening, May 21, at eight o'clock. It is being presented under the auspices of the New Castle Camp of the Modern Woodmen of America.

The appeal of childhood innocence and helplessness is world-wide, quickening the instinct of fatherhood or motherhood implanted in every breast. It gives men and women courage to work and sacrifice to build homes and surround their children with the safeguards of ordered government. It speaks a universal language familiar to every heart.

Childhood's appeal lends power, charm and pathos to "The Orphans", and many Woodmen and their friends are planning to see this fine production on next Monday evening.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT

The making of cookies takes time, but is a time saver after all, as a good sized batch lasts some time—if you can successfully conceal them from the family, and they make good desserts. A dish of strawberries with cookies, or a simple milk or gelatine pudding with cooky accompaniment, or cookies alone, are very satisfactory "finish-ups," as we children used to say.

Scalloped Ham and Potatoes
Lettuce with French Dressing
Dandelion Greens Spiced Cookies
Tea

Today's Recipes

Scalloped Ham With Potatoes — One-half pound ham, cut in inch pieces, pepper, one quart sliced raw potatoes, two cups milk. Arrange the potatoes and the ham in layers in a buttered baking dish, sprinkling each layer with pepper. Add the milk and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) until the potatoes are tender. If necessary add more milk. Raw ham or left-over cooked ham may be used in this recipe.

Spiced Cookies — One-half cup fat, one cup white or brown sugar, two eggs, one-half cup sour milk, one and three-fourths cups flour, one-fouth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon soda, one cup raisins, one cup oatmeal or nuts, one-half teaspoon cloves. Cream the fat, add the sugar graduaMy and the eggs well beaten. Mix and sift the dry ingredients and mix these with the chopped raisins and nuts or oatmeal, and add to the first ingredients, alternately with the milk. Drop by spoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven ten to fifteen minutes.

New Things for the House

A new teapot needs neither strainer nor tea ball. It is of glass, with a metal top from which depends a metal perforated sphere, hung on a chain, so that when the tea leaves have been left long enough in the hot water the ball can be raised without removing it from the pot.

Tinted glass baking dishes are even more attractive than those of plain color. Those of pale flame color are particularly alluring.

Imported breakfast sets have an oblong china tray to hold a tea or coffee cup, an egg cup and salt and pepper shakers. They are charmingly decorated.

"Eczema broke out in red spots which scaled over and affected my knees and elbows, later spreading to other parts of my body. It caused disfigurement and also itching, and sometimes I lost my rest on account of the irritation. The trouble lasted about four or five months.

"I used other remedies but received no benefit whatever. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in about three weeks I could see an improvement. I continued the treatment and now I am completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. George W. Secor, R. 1, Box 13, Delmar, N. Y.

Custer's Last Campaign—Part XI
The Battle On The Bluff

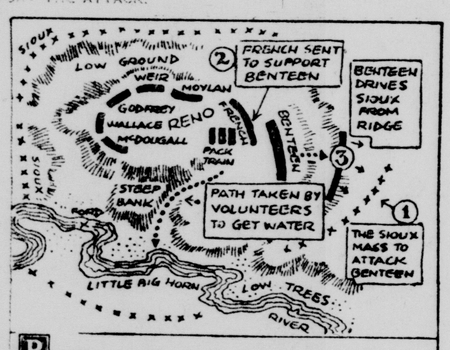

AT NIGHTFALL OF JUNE 25, 1876, THE SIOUX DREW OFF FROM THE ATTACK ON MAJOR RENO'S POSITION ON THE HIGH BLUFF ABOVE THE LITTLE BIG HORN. ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT, RENO'S MEN WORKED DESPERATELY DIGGING SHALLOW RIFLE PITS. WHILE THE VALLEY RANG WITH THE TRIUMPHANT WHOOPS OF THE SAVAGES, CELEBRATING THEIR VICTORY OVER CUSTER.

THE NEXT MORNING THE SIOUX RENEWED THE ATTACK. THE SOLDIERS' CANTEENS WERE EMPTY, AND THE WOUNDED WERE SUFFERING FOR WANT OF WATER. DARING VOLUNTEERS BRAVED THE FIRE OF THE INDIAN RIFLEMEN TO FILL THE CANTEENS WITH WATER FROM THE RIVER.

BENTEEN WAS HOLDING AN EXPOSED POSITION ON THE EXTREME RIGHT OF RENO'S LINE. BEFORE HIM ROSE A RIDGE, FROM THE TOP OF WHICH INDIAN RIFLEMEN WERE SHOOTING DOWN AT HIS MEN. BENTEEN BEGGED RENO'S PERMISSION TO CHARGE THE ENEMY. RENO RELUCTANTLY CONSENTED, AND SENT FRENCH'S TROOP TO SUPPORT THE ATTACK.

BENTEEN'S MEN SURGED FORWARD TOWARD THE CREST, FIRING AND CHEERING, AND THE SIOUX SCATTERED IN ALL DIRECTIONS. UNTIL THE MIDDLE OF THE AFTERNOON THERE WERE INTERMITTENT BURSTS OF FIRING. THEN THE SHOOTING STOPPED, AND THE REDSKINS APPEARED TO BE RETREATING.

Race Circuit Plans Are Near Completion

Two-Day Meets Are To Be Held In Various Cities This Summer

RACE AT NEW CASTLE FAIR TRACK JULY 27-28

Plans are practically complete for the Coal, Oil and Iron race circuit which will begin in July and continue with two day race meets throughout the circuit until fairs open, according to J. M. Dunkle, Butler, president of the new loop which was started here. The trotters and pacers will make their appearance here July 27 and 28.

Five meetings have been arranged by the horsemen. The first will be held at Junction Park, New Brighton, July 4 and 7. This will be followed by a meeting at Warren, O., July 11 and 12. The following week will find all horses competing on the local half-mile track, July 20 and 21 have been set for Butler. The horses will compete in New Castle July 27 and 28 and will complete the circuit August 3 and 4 at Warren, Pa.

Programs Planned

Four trots and four paces will be on the card and four races will be run each day. Two stakes, the 2:20 trot and the 2:21 pace, will feature the cards. Entries for these events closed yesterday and the work of compiling the entries will be begun immediately.

Included in the paces are 2:11, 2:14, 2:21 and 2:30, while the trots will be composed of the following classes, 2:16, 2:20, 2:24 and 2:30. Entries in all but the stakes will be open until the day of the race.

Horsemen throughout the western part of the state are expected to greet the circuit with approval. It was organized to give horsemen a chance to race their entries prior to the fairs. Money is already in the treasury for all events in every town. The money will be pooled, and divided pro rata at the end of the season among the respective fair associations.

Sportraits

Jimmy Wilson switched from the ownership and the uniform of one big league team to another during the playing of a championship game between the Philadelphia and St. Louis club of the National league. This ought to be some sort of a record.

During the second inning of a game in which Jim was catching for the Phils it was announced that he had been traded for Virgil Davis and the club's option on Homer Peel of Houston, Tex., to St. Louis.

Without a word Wilson strolled to the Cardinals' bench, quitting the game, doffed his Phillie unie for a St. Louis one and sat down with the Missouri players.

TEXTOR KEEPING HIS TEAM BUSY

Knows When To Coax And Coerce; Doesn't Recognize Sentiment

Five games in as many days is a stiff proposition for any minor league baseball club to go through, but George Textor, the boss of the New Castle team which played Canton at Massillon, yesterday and today tackles Monongahela-West Newton, at Monongahela City believes nothing but good will result.

George Believes that practices goes far to make perfection, or as nearly as it is possible to accomplish in a baseball way and also that a little "driving" doesn't hurt any ball player.

The manager, having been up in the "Big Show" knows when to coax and when to coerce and doesn't let sentiment block a deal for a good player.

While the team is playing at Monongahela City today their next stop will be West Newton to play the same team again but on Saturday will return here to meet the Homestead Grays.

It is against minor league rules to play more than two games in a single day. A lot of clubs act like it is against the rules to win any.

Boston Red Sox Continue To Win

Boston Americans Have Won Five Straight Games For New Long Record

TY COBB BACK IN FORM AGAIN

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 17.—Nobody is laughing at the Boston Red Sox these days. The back bay boys, for years the joke of the American league, have won five straight games and are less than half a game away from the first division. They nosed out Detroit yesterday, 5 to 4, in the 11th inning, the defeat marking Detroit's sixth successive setback.

Bill Carrigan has collected a prize-winning bunch of rookie pitchers, retained the best of the young players bequeathed him by former managers, and balanced the team with four seasoned veterans—Flagstead, Williams, Gerber and Hoffmann. The long distance hitting of Williams has won several games and furthermore the Sox have been leading the league in fielding.

Cobb Regains Form.

Ty Cobb is getting spryer as the weather becomes warmer. The veteran drove in four runs with a home run and a single and actually stole a base as the Athletics slaughtered Cleveland, 15 to 2. Hale and Fonseca also hit homers. Rube Walberg held the Indians to five hits.

All other teams were idle yesterday. In the National league today the eastern clubs will begin the last leg of their western invasion. Cincinnati and Chicago, tied for the league, take on Brooklyn and Boston respectively. The New York Giants, smarting under four successive defeats by the Cubs, will endeavor to wrest third place from the Cardinals.

Mandell-McLarnin In Title Bout At New York Tonight

Expect Big Crowd As Lightweights Prepare For Battle That Means Crown

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Sixty thousand persons, paying $300,000 or more at the gate, are expected to view the scheduled 15-round battle at the Polo grounds tonight between Sammy Mandell, the Rockford, Ill., "sheik", and "Baby Face" Jimmy McLarnin of the Pacific coast, for the lightweight championship of the world. It promises to be the most interesting lightweight battle in four years—since the night of July 23, 1924, when Benny Leonard whipped Lew Tendler in the same ring.

Both Champion Mandell and McLarnin are supremely confident of victory. They are trained down to a fine point and ready for the bell. They have motored to New York City from their training camps in the country and will weigh in at the offices of the state boxing commission at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Neither boxer is likely to have any difficulty scaling below 135 pounds.

Heavy betting on the outcome was reported today, with Mandell a 6 to 5 favorite. It was freely predicted, however, that the fighters will enter the ring at even money. Many thousands of dollars have been wagered. The betting has been heavier than on any fight hereabouts since the Dempsey-Firpo thriller.

Wolff was hurt in the first inning of the 9 to 6 State victory when Mort Wilner, Penn second baseman, ran into him while rounding third base and although in the fall the Brooklyn's boy's wrist was broken he held on to the ball completing the out.

When Dilks left New Castle few knew he had left but soon his name coupled to that of his residence "New Castle, Pa.," was emblazoned on the pages of newspapers throughout the world.

During the first weeks of the grind he sustained ailments companionate to runners woes and had practically decided to retire when the citizens of New Castle rallied behind him.

JIMMY McLARNIN

Jimmy McLarnin, who leaped to a commanding position among the lightweight boxers this year, was born in Ireland on Dec. 17, 1905.

Jimmy came to America when a baby. He started his boxing career as an amateur and was little short of a sensation. After boxing a year as a Simon-pure, Jimmy became a pro in 1924.

Jimmy knocked out Louis "Kid" Kaplan, Jackie Fields and Joey Sangor and gained decisions over Tommy Cello, Billy Wallace, Young Nationalista, Fidel La Barba, Pancho Villa, Sidney Glick and other good boys. Bud Taylor has been a thorn in Jimmy's side, as Buddo has whipped him twice and McLarnin holds one decision over the Hoosier, gained through a foul.

McLarnin is only five feet five and one-half inches in height and usually weighs around 135 pounds.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., May 17.—Having given New York state its first thrill of the greatest endurance event yet staged, C. C. "Cross Country" Pyle's caravan of callouses moved onward today to Bradford, Pa., the 75th control, 44 miles east of here.

Steeled by a day's gruelling grind of 69 miles yesterday through the foothills of the Alleghenies from Erie, the blistered but bunionless derbyists followed in the wake of Andy Payne, youthful Oklahoman. Payne heads the big parade with an elapsed time of 487:23:37 for the 2,950.9 miles from Los Angeles.

John Salo, Passaic, New Jersey, Finnish-American, demonstrated why he is Payne's most dangerous rival. He led the field from Erie in 8:46:05, 50 minutes and 27 seconds ahead of Giusto Umek, Italy's champion pedestrian, who was second. Salo, as the reslult moved up one hour 39 minutes and 52 seconds on Payne, who tied for fourth with Louis Perrella of Albany, N. Y., and cut the Oklahoman's lead to 20 hours, nine minutes and 35 seconds.

Dr. John Baker, Philadelphia, surgeon general for the caravan, who has accompanied the men through the long journey from Los Angeles, declared that the runners were in fine shape.

"The shin splint, the malady afflicting the lower lateral part of the leg on one or both sides, has been seen here and eradicated as never before," Dr. Baker said. "In the past an athlete suffering from them took the only prescribed cure—rest. Here that has been impossible. The men have literally run them off. The swelling, an inflammation, usually reaches its height in two or three days and subsides under hot compresses and running in another day or two."

Ed. Gardner, Seattle negro, conquered a shin splint that in two days moved him from fifth to tenth place and is again fighting his way upward.

Highway 17 will be the official route with few detours slated before the caravan pushes into New York on Saturday, May 26.

Wellsville will be tomorrow's control, Bath Saturday and Elmira Sunday.

Old Wahoo Sam Now "Wars" On The Japs

By JACK SORDS.
Sports Cartoonist-Writes for Central Press and New Castle News.

One of the most immortal names of modern baseball is that of Sam Crawford, old Wahoo Sam whose great bat and strong arm broke up many a ball game during his service with the once formidable Detroit Tigers.

Crawford was one of those fellows who looked like eternal fixtures in sport. A star outfielder on a team which boasted one of the greatest players of all time—Ty Cobb—Sam, nevertheless made a great showing and proved quite often as strong a unit on defense and attack as his great contemporary.

Long and Sam passed from the big tent and now he bobs up again as the coach of the University of Southern California baseball team who is leading his charges on a tour of Japan. Crawford and his crowd of collegians will be gone until September 1

Under the leadership of the wily old Sam are some highly organized bits of athletic energy. One of his baseball stars is none other than the famous Morley Drury many times mentioned for All-American football fame.

If Sam's boys sweep through their Oriental tour piling up the victories, they cannot bring to the old Bengal Tiger a vestige of the fame which was his while traveling under the colors of Detroit.

Even the batting feats of such behemoths as Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig have not wiped from the memory of the American leaguers the fine stick work of Old Sam of the Tigers.

Crawford was one of the Tigers that brought Detroit the only pennants the auto city has never had. That was during the glorious days of 1907, 1908 and 1909 when Detroit occupied a position relatively similar to that now enjoyed by the Yankees.

About the greatest factor in the winning of those three penants two decades ago was the work of the Tiger outfield which was composed of various combinations of four stalwarts—Crawford, Cobb, Jones and McIntyre.

Even when the evil days came for the Tigers and they no longer knew the joys of the world series and the pleasures of continued pennant winning the bat of old Sam Crawford was still a big factor for his club.

In later years Crawford formed a third of the great Tiger triumvirate of Cobb, Crawford and the then young Harry Heilmann who since has become the perennial batting star of the American league.

After leaving the big time Crawford drifted to the Pacific coast and stuck in the minor circuit for awhile. Then he took the university job and such is the magnetism of his presence that the Southern Californians have sailed away firmly in the belief that they can lick anything in the Orient.

And under Sam, who knows? Maybe they can.

Plan To Offer Walter Hagen Fine Contract

North Castle Golf And Country Club Willing To Pay Hagen $15,000

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, May 17.—Somebody stopped being dumb along about the end of the qualifying round of the British open, it was learned on credible authority today, and decided that Jose Jurado, like the rose that blushed unseen, was wasting his fragrance on the Argentine, even if it was garlic itself. Anyhow, the story around the United States Golf Association headquarters today was that Jose might be weaned away from the bones or the airs of Buenos Aires and installed this summer as professional at a newly organized course in the Westchester county district of New York.

The same source of information declared that Archie Compston, Britain's best and perhaps only remaining golfer, might be offered the spot in preference to Jose, the idea being that an exhibit A is needed, and any gent who beats Walter Hagen by 18 up and 17 to play ought to be on a pedestal with the other museum pieces.

The organization in question is the North Castle Golf and Country Club, near Mt. Kisko, and the report that neither Compston or Jurado might be hired had its inception shortly after Thomas E. Donovan, guiding spirit of the outfit, announced that he had a $15,000 contract awaiting the winner of the British open. This, it may be said, is an excellent contract, even if nobody gets it. As a matter of fact, it represents the largest bid for professional services in the history of golf.

Offer Hagen Job

Hagen, of course, ruined the continuity by winning the British championship, it being assumed by everybody that this nonchalant young man would be somewhat irked by the suggestion that he identify himself with any given proposition, exclusively and privately, while his public is clamoring incessantly and without surcease, which obviously is the wrong thing to be without. Anyhow, Hagen is to be blandished with the $15,000 offer as soon as he lands, according to the word passed along today. If he just cannot be annoyed they will ask him to consider a part-time identification with the course.

If this fails of enticement there is no one left but Jurado or Compston, as Gene Sarazen, runner-up to Hagen, is unavailable owing to an existing contract with Freshmeadow.

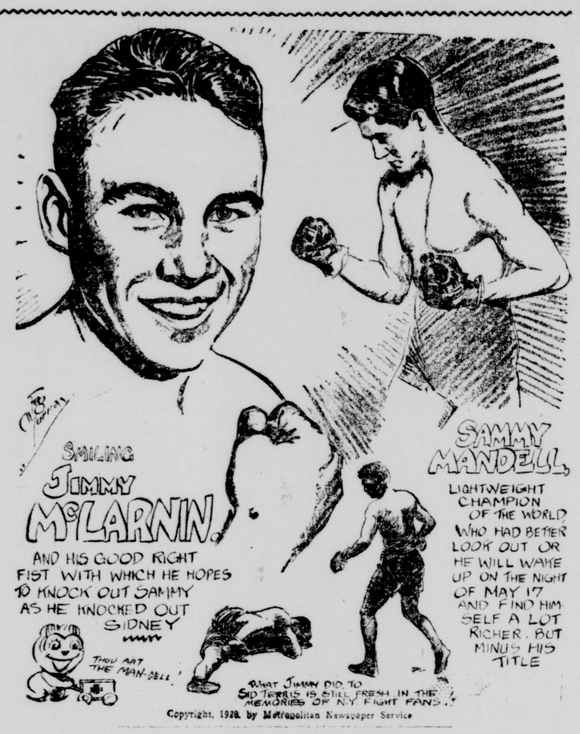

That Compston is headed for America is a belief that is rather widely accepted in this country, Archie having tired of English custom, which insists that a professional golfer eat with the other help. He will be here for the national open at Olympia Fields next month, and the understanding is that he won't be permitted to escape, even if he wants to, which he doesn't.

As for Jurado, I have it on the authority of the U. S. G. A. that he worked as pro at a club near Peekskill, N. Y., for two years and might welcome a chance to return where the big money is always mentioned, even when it isn't paid.

That $15,000 of course, doesn't go, except to Hagen, if then.

They could hire Compston and his uncle Abner for that and still have enough left to keep Jurado in frijoles for the rest of his life.

Can Jimmy Stop Sammy? By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Since Sammy Mandell, synthetic lightweight champion of the world, won his title from the ancient Rocky Kansas in 1926, he has confined himself to boxing such nobodies as Joe Jawson, Larry Cappo, Clausine Vincent, Jack Duffy, Ray Moore, Jimmy Lanning, Eddie Dwyer, Ammando Shekels, etc., etc, etc., Shekels being as good a place as any to stop because that's what little Sammy is out for, and why not? Only a couple of names mean anything in Mandell's record for the last two years, a 12 round no-decision bout with Jackie Fields in Los Angeles and a 10-round win from Phil McGraw the fast fading florist in Detroit.

Now the pussy-footing champion is going to risk his title at last and when I say "risk" I mean just that. Folks who have seen Jimmy McLarnin in action, especially in his knockout victories over Kid Kaplan and Sid Terris are confident that "Baby Face" has a grand chance of winning by a K. O. At any rate the interest in this bout is partially making up for what the Tunney-Heeney fracas lacks and is restoring prestige to a division once honored by a long list of real fighting champions like McAuliffe, Lavigne, Gans, Nelson, Wolgast, Ritchie and Leonard.

While McLarnin's critics point to his fights with Bud Taylor and Tommy Cello and say that Mandell will have no difficulty in outpointing Jimmy, at the same time avoiding his deadly right hand nevertheless McLarnin has been fighting oftener and against better opponents than Sammy and so should have an even chance to win the title.

Outselling All "Sixes"

A nationwide acknowledgement of the World's Greatest Value

Woman Favor Plays Increasing Part in This Success

The great reception given Hudson-Essex cars by the women of America is direct recognition of the refinements, beauty and conveniences that have been built into these cars, and adapted to the ever-growing motoring needs of women.

A buying preference of enormous proportions lifts the Essex Super-Six far above the crossfire of competitive claims. It is the public itself which says the finest things for Essex.

It is outselling all other "Sixes"—in many sections by more than 2 to 1. And, with slight variations, this preference is the nation's and the world's.

The new Essex Super-Six is a delight to the eye—in lines, in fine exterior appointment and in careful finish that invites and repays the closest examination.

Within, this satisfaction to the eye and sense is apparent in every detail. The quality of the high-backed, form-fitting seats—richly upholstered—impresses you immediately. At the slender, graceful wheel, you look out over the shining beauty of cowl, hood, saddle-type lamps, heavy, arching fenders, to the winged radiator figure that expresses the spirit and fleetness under your hand.

You have before you the handsome grouping of dials and meters upon the beautiful ebony instrument board. Starter and electro-lock are there to your hand, too. Bendix four-wheel brakes give smooth positive stopping action and an added sense of greater security. All doors are weatherstripped. The body is of silenced construction, adding to the notably quiet operation of Essex.

To see, to examine, to ride in the New Essex Super-Six can bring only one conclusion—it is the World's Greatest Value—altogether or part by part.

Jack Dempsey Is Now In Training, Comeback Hinted

Dempsey May Fight Tunney Again If Rickard Will Come To Terms

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Renewed training activities by Jack Dempsey Wednesday gave rise to reports that the former world's heavyweight champion had started another fistic comeback.

Dempsey started the week by punching the bag and jogging over the hills near his Los Feliz Hills home in earnest workout.

The word was sent out that the Manassa Mauler wanted sparring partners to volunteer for his new training siege.

Dempsey was said to have telephoned Tex Rickard in New York last night.

"If Rickard meets my terms I'll fight Gene Tunney in September," the former champion was quoted as having told an intimate friend.

Upon his return here, however, Dempsey laughed at the suggestion that he would seek to regain his lost crown.

His friends hinted that Dempsey was confronted with the necessity of working off 12 pounds excess weight to meet the requirements of a forthcoming stage engagement.

Nicholas Butler Is Recovering

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, is recovering rapidly from an attack of acute indigestion, suffered several days ago, according to word today from St. Luke's hospital. Physicians say Dr. Butler was taken to the hospital chiefly for a rest as the attack is believed to have been brought on by fatigue.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 17.—Considering the severity and the suddenness of Wednesday's break in prices of the market specialties, industrial stocks gave a good account of themselves in the early trading today. Instead of further sweeping declines in the market favorites, prices were bid upward by the professionals in the recognition of the strong position of marginal accounts, and the small volume of stock pressed for sale from the outside.

Wright Aero declined 6½ points to 213½, at the opening but the stock climbed promptly to 220. Curtiss Aero also recovered about 5 points to sell above 155. Nash was a strong spot in the motor shares, advancing nearly 3 points to 93¾. General Motors sold in volume at 197½, down a point from the previous close, and United States Steel was unchanged at 146. Moderate losses were sustained by the well known steel, motor and oil stocks.

Raising of the Philadelphia Reserve Bank rediscount rate to 4½ per cent after the close of yesterday's market revived discussion of the probability of similar action being taken by the New York directors today; but money market factors as usual failed to receive very much recognition in the speculative market and investment funds flowed in good volume.

The railroad stocks were inactive but firm, with narrow price changes in the high grade issues. American Tel and Tel stock advanced to 200 for the first time in the history of the company, an overnight gain of 4 points. American International was also strong in the second period, with a new 5 point rise to 115. Call money was unchanged at 5½ per cent.

ALLIANCE PLANS NOW REVEALED

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—An alleged alliance in Philadelphia between Democrats and forces of Senator-Elect William S. Vare, R., of Pennsylvania is a "national scandal", Louis C. Cassidy of Philadelphia charged in a telegram today to the senate presidential funds investigating committee.

Cassidy denied a statement yesterday of Joseph F. Guffey, manager for Gov. Al Smith in Pennsylvania, that $2,000 had been sent to Philadelphia to elect Smith delegates.

The telegram follows:

"As Smith candidate for delegate in Philadelphia wish to deny Guffey statement before your committee that anti-Smith candidate running obliged Guffey to send O'Donnell $2,000. Alliance between Democrats and Vare in Philadelphia national Scandal."

Sedgwick Kistler of Lockhaven, Pa., a Smith candidate for national committeeman, was questioned about the statement but said he knew nothing of the charges. Kistler, however, told of making a $1,000 contribution to the Democratic party last February only to discover a few days ago that the money was used by the Smith organization.

Charges Denied

"I didn't think I had made any contribution to the Smith campaign," Kistler explained. He was told by Guffey, however, that his $1,000 check was used in the Smith campaign.

Kistler said he didn't intend to contribute to the Democratic party in Philadelphia.

The committee then turned to the Republican contest in West Virginia between Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Senator Guy D. Goff, favorite son candidate. Oscar C. Wilt of Clarksburg, a bank cashier, described the contest as very wild.

"We have been told that a group of bankers agreed to finance his campaign if Mr. Hoover would file his name," said Senator Bratton (D) of New Mexico. "What do you know about that?"

"I have no knowledge whatever of that," said Wilt.

Henry Ford Visits Independence Hall

Will Have Architect Make Sketches Of Building And Grounds For New Museum

Writes Signature In Book Maintained For Distinguished Visitors

(International News Service).

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—Henry Ford paid homage today to the shrine of American independence.

Accompanied by a party of friends and business associates, the Detroit motor magnate visited Independence Hall shortly before noon and spent nearly an hour looking at the collection of historic relics. He sat at the table where the Declaration of Independence was signed and wrote his name in the book kept for distinguished visitors. His signature was inscribed on the page opposite the signatures of the Bremen trans-Atlantic fliers.

After Ford had made a tour of the building and grounds, he announced that he would employ the architectural features of the Independence Square group in his museum of early Americana at Dearborn, Mich. He asked permission of Superintendent Horace Carpenter to send an architect to make sketches of the building and grounds.

Today was not Ford's first visit to Independence Hall. He had been through the buildings during a trip here several years ago, but since then he has made quite a study of historic relics and antiques.

"That's the only picture I've seen in America that I would like to have in my home," he said gazing at the Rembrandt Peale painting of Washington.

Ford plans to visit the Chester plant this afternoon and then return to Detroit tonight.

Women's Societies In Session Today At First Baptist

Representatives From Beaver Baptist Association Have Annual Meeting Here

About 125 women representing the Woman's Missionary societies of the Baptist churches of the Beaver Baptist association were present today at the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union in the First Baptist church of this city.

Women were present from churches of New Castle, Ellwood City, Sharon, Sharpsville, Farrell, East Side Sharon, New Brighton, Beaver Falls, Providence, Harlansburg, Zion and Harmony.

The morning session opened with a devotional period led by Mrs. C. W. MacGeorge of Ellwood City. After the appointment of the several committees and the reports of secretaries and circles, Miss Elizabeth Hay, returned missionary from the Baptist mission field at Assam, India, gave a most interesting talk of her work.

Miss Hay has spent about 12 years on the foreign field. She told especially of the need of missionaries to assist the converted natives in their Christian work. She also told of the domestic life of the women of India.

A special feature of the morning was the separate sessions and group discussions by the White Cross in charge of Mrs. William Wilson; World Wide Guild, Miss Lyda Nichols; C. W. C., Miss Minnie Summers; Study class and Extension and Literature, Mrs. H. A. Sturdy and Mrs. J. Funkhouser.

An unusually fine display of White Cross articles was on display. The list included hospital supplies, surgeon's and nurses aprons, bandages, dressings for hospital work and children's clothes.

At the afternoon session which was opened with a prayer and song service in charge of Mrs. H. F. Holbrook of Sharon the outstanding address was made by Miss Eva Fewel of Fallon Nev., missionary to the Indians.

The meeting closed with a pageant entitled "Garments of Glory" in charge of Mrs. W. W. Wilson.

SUFFERING OF 2 YEARS ENDED BY THE NEW KONJOLA

This Man States He Is Free Of Stomach, Liver And Kidney Trouble.

MR. JOHN W. BROWN
Seavy Photo

The extent to which this new Konjola medicine is helping the people of New Castle has become the talk of the drug and medical trades of this section. Throngs are calling daily to see the Konjola Man at Love and Megown's Drug Store, 204 East Washington St., this city, and hear his personal explanation of this surprising compound. At the same time, a stream of voluntary indorsements and reports are received from people of this vicinity, describing the remarkable benefits they have derived from the use of this medicine.

"Konjola is first of all a new, advanced remedy," explained The Konjola Man yesterday. "It is a liquid containing medicinal extracts from twenty-two plants of nature. This compound works with the sufferer's own food, restoring the stomach, liver, kidneys and nerves to better action. It removes the poisons which cause most of the chronic aches and pains, and therefore, the people who take Konjola nearly always report new feelings of health over their body in general.

One of the latest residents to make a public indorsement of Konjola is Mr. John W. Brown, 1113½ South Mill St., this city.

"I strongly indorse such a medicine," said Mr. Brown, "It has brought new health over my entire system and gave me wonderful relief from kidney trouble and a general rundown condition.

"I was a sufferer for two years and during this time, I had taken every kind of medicine I heard of but got almost no relief. Most of my trouble was due to sluggish disordered kidneys. My back was full of pain and I was subject to constant night rising. The bad condition of my liver affected my whole body. My eyes were weak and the whites were very yellowish. All during the day I had splitting headaches and awful dizzy spells when I would have to hold onto something to keep from falling. With all these health troubles I thought my case almost hopeless.

"About three weeks ago I heard about Konjola and got some of this medicine. Before the first bottle was gone I began to feel better. My kidneys got stronger, and I did not have to get up during the night. All the pains in my back disappeared and I would hardly realize I ever had kidney trouble. Konjola cleansed and regulated my liver. My eyes cleared up and the headaches and backaches are gone. I can sleep perfectly through the whole night and feel refreshed in the mornings.

"Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine, and once more I want to say that I am glad to indorse it."

The Konjola Man is at the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington St., New Castle, where he is daily meeting the public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

You may think you have seen a lot of circuses, but you never really see the circus properly until you take a five year old lad with you. Seeing it alone, or with companions of your own age is just an afternoon's pleasure. Seeing it with a five year old lad is a challenge to your accumulated fund of knowledge, an inquisition of questions, and the constant fear that there may be something you don't know.

Why does a giraffe have such a long neck, where do the tigers go after they leave the circus ring? Where did the clown get such a funny face, and why do they have fireworks in the daytime in the circus? These and a thousand other questions and the constant command to look over there, and over here, and up in the air.

A new vista of wonders opens up as the five year old eyes seek out new things to see, and what appeared commonplace and ordinary to you before, suddenly becomes the work of some genii, some Aladdin who has visited your city for a day.

It's new to him, and the enthusiasm of his first visit makes it new to you. And around that big tent yesterday afternoon were hundreds of folks with little boys and little girls who were seeing the circus for the first time.

And that's one answer why circuses are still the "capsheaf and crowning endeavor of all outdoor amusement features." The quotes belong to the ballyhoo of the publicity man.

A New Castle man is with the Hagenbeck-Wallace outfit. Joe Riley, who never got over his love for the big top is a barker with the H-W organization and welcomed a lot of New Castle friends Wednesday.

Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was in the city last night and reminisced a little about his early life. David S. Pyle, who had introduced Mr. Davis in the Cathedral had mentioned the first trip of the secretary's here, when he camped at the junction of the Neshannock and Shenango rivers, down where the steel mill stands.

A little later, taking him to the train, the car in which he was riding passed the spot and it was pointed out. "Yes, that's the place," he said. "There was a reason why I camped out there that night, an economic reason. There was no money for hotels those days."

It so happens that George Washington camped about the same spot in 1753, so that Mr. Davis had an illustrious precedent. He was informed of the coincidence and remarked that at least here was one similarity between himself and the First President.

Coming out of Cleveland yesterday afternoon the mayor of that city detailed three motorcycle policemen to pilot the car in which Mr. Davis was being brought to New Castle by Fred L. Rentz and D. O. Davies. John Haley drove the car and said last night that it was the first time he had ever gone through Cleveland's streets at sixty miles per hour. Traffic was stopped all ways to let the secretary through and lights had no effect upon traffic movements.

Following out the suggestion of Will Rogers, City Solicitor R. M. White now has a roof sign on his property, the sign being on a bird house. The solicitor had a painter at his place for some days doing a lot of spring painting, and suggested that the roof of the bird house should be painted to guide the bird men. When he got home that evening, there was the sign.

Now Bob wants to know if Will will refund the cost of the paint, which he estimates at about three cents.

This is the day when Oil City High School orchestra comes to New Castle. The Oil City boys and girls have an organization to be proud of, and their appearance here today is one that will give much pleasure to those men who hear them in the Cathedral.
